Senate Unit Now Weighs Dodd's Fate

'Conscience Clear,' Senator Declares As Testimony Ends

WASHINGTON (AP) — The political career and reputation of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd hangs in the balance as the Senate ethics committee secretly weighs accusations of financial wrongdoing against him.

The committee's public probe of Dodd — the first Senate proceeding of its kind since the McCarthy era — ended Friday with the Connecticut Democrat saying "my conscience is clear."

Emotionally but quietly, the white-haired Dodd told the committee: "I don't believe any man is going to look me in the eye and say I've done wrong."

On that note the committee adjourned after five days of taking testimony that dealt primarily with allegations that Dodd used contributions to his political campaigns for personal expenses.

An earlier round of hearings last summer explored his relationship with Chicago public relations man Julius Klein, a registered agent for West German business interests. Dodd is accused of making several trips to Germany to help Klein retain clients there.

The ethics committee, composed of three Democrats and three Republicans, may meet next week but Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., said it will be "some weeks, at least" before it reports its findings and recommendations to the Senate.

A wide range of possibilities is open. It could find Dodd had done nothing improper, or it could recommend a reprimand, censure, or expulsion from the Senate. It also could call for action against him by the Justice Department.

But the 59-year-old senator, after undergoing more than two hours of questioning, told the committee he is sure he's done nothing wrong.

There were some indications that the committee may go beyond the Dodd case itself in its report and incorporate proposals for a code of ethics for senators and Senate employees and overhauling the corrupt practices act and other laws dealing with campaign financing.

However, it was understood no decision on this has been reached. The committee had started work on recommendations of this nature before it launched its investigation of Dodd's affairs a little over a year ago.

Once the report is submitted, the Senate itself will assume responsibility for what is done about it.

The House also is wrestling with the problem of ethics in a sequel to its recent refusal to seat Harlem Democrat Adam Clayton Powell.

The late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis., was the last member of the Senate involved in a censure proceeding. In 1954 his conduct was criticized by a 67-22 vote of the Senate at a special session.

McCarthy was only the fourth member in Senate history to suffer an official rebuke from his colleagues.

Dodd, testifying mostly in a low, soft voice, maintained that a series of testimonial affairs between 1961 and 1965 were not to raise campaign funds for him but to provide him with money to meet debts and what he called "personal-political" expenses.

UAW Unions Endorse 'Pullout' By Reuther

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Skilled tradesmen from 372 local unions of the United Auto Workers today endorsed UAW President Walter P. Reuther's threat to pull his 1.4 million members out of the AFL-CIO.

The action came in a resolution quickly adopted at the closing session of the UAW's 12th international skilled trades conference.

The resolution urged that a UAW general convention in April give the union's International Executive Board authority to withdraw the UAW from the federation, if and when it sees fit.

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's draft constitution received final approval from the Constituent Assembly today in time for Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky to carry it to Guam Sunday and show it to President Johnson.

The draft constitution, which provides for the election of a civilian government later this year, was approved by all of the assemblymen present at the final session — 102 of the 117 members.

The constitution is still subject to change. The Saigon military junta have the right to review its 117 statutes during the next 30 days and to send it back to the Constituent Assembly.

Amendments suggested by the junta can be turned down only by a two-thirds vote of the Assembly.

Presidential elections are to be held in Vietnam six months after the constitution's promulgation. Legislative elections are promised within a year after balloting for president.

The assembly began working on the constitution last September. It provides for a blend of presidential and parliamentary forms of government, an independent judiciary and a two-house National Assembly.

A president elected by universal and direct adult suffrage will appoint a prime minister who would choose a Cabinet. The lower house has the power to oust Cabinet members on votes of confidence.

Assemblymen said Ky had asked them to vote for the final adoption of the draft constitution by tonight, rather than by March 17 as scheduled, so that he could take it to his meeting with Johnson.

In lengthy sessions today, the assemblymen smoothed over a conflict with the junta. The Assembly wanted to continue functioning with full legislative powers until the presidential elections. The military opposed this.

LISBON — The Seventh District Court of Appeals today stayed "until further order" the death sentence of Charles L. Copestick, 29, of East Liverpool, convicted in the pistol slaying of his wife, Rebecca Mae, 19, last June.

The former pottery wareboy, sentenced Nov. 16 after a jury trial, was scheduled to go to the electric chair April 12.

The Appellate Court sustained the motion for a stay of execution filed here Monday after Copestick's counsel, Donald D. Shay and G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool, argued his appeal before the tribunal. The court has the appeal under study.

Following the Appellate Court order, Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey this morning forwarded a copy of the stay of execution notice to Warden E. L. Maxwell at Ohio State Penitentiary by registered mail.

Army Widens Its Control In Jittery China

Farms, Factories Are Taken Over In More Provinces

HONG KONG (AP) — Mainland broadcasts claimed today the Red Chinese army has taken over farms and factories in three more southeastern provinces. If true, it means that Mao Tse-tung has established control of production at gunpoint over a vast area of southern China.

The reports reinforced the conviction among observers of China's bitter internal struggle that the 2.5 million-man army had become the principal instrument of Communist party Chairman Mao's "Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution" — a purge of so-called reactionary elements in Chinese life.

It meant, too, that the army was achieving at least some success through force where Mao's militant civilian Red Guards and revolutionary rebels had failed, through political agitation, propagandizing and appeals for faithful adherence to Mao's thought, to win popular support for the purge.

The latest provinces in which Maoist troops were reported to have seized control of agricultural and industrial production are Anhwei and Kiangsi, which border coastal provinces, and Hupeh, further inland.

Powell Cancels Trip To New York Sunday

BIMINI, Bahamas (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell has canceled his plan to go to New York Sunday, but he says reluctance to trigger civil commotion, not fear of arrest, led him to remain in voluntary exile.

"I want to go back but not if it means violence and bloodshed, and my people tell me it would mean violence and bloodshed," Powell told newsmen Friday.

An aide said Powell, 59, probably would stay on Bimini, his fishing and relaxing spot off the Florida coast.

Ky To Take Constitution To Meeting

Action To Provide For Election Of Civilian Rule Later

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's draft constitution received final approval from the Constituent Assembly today in time for Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky to carry it to Guam Sunday and show it to President Johnson.

The draft constitution, which provides for the election of a civilian government later this year, was approved by all of the assemblymen present at the final session — 102 of the 117 members.

The constitution is still subject to change. The Saigon military junta have the right to review its 117 statutes during the next 30 days and to send it back to the Constituent Assembly. Amendments suggested by the junta can be turned down only by a two-thirds vote of the Assembly.

Presidential elections are to be held in Vietnam six months after the constitution's promulgation. Legislative elections are promised within a year after balloting for president.

The assembly began working on the constitution last September. It provides for a blend of presidential and parliamentary forms of government, an independent judiciary and a two-house National Assembly.

A president elected by universal and direct adult suffrage will appoint a prime minister who would choose a Cabinet. The lower house has the power to oust Cabinet members on votes of confidence.

Assemblymen said Ky had asked them to vote for the final adoption of the draft constitution by tonight, rather than by March 17 as scheduled, so that he could take it to his meeting with Johnson.

In lengthy sessions today, the assemblymen smoothed over a conflict with the junta. The Assembly wanted to continue functioning with full legislative powers until the presidential elections. The military opposed this.

Slayer Gets Court Delay On Execution

LISBON — The Seventh District Court of Appeals today stayed "until further order" the death sentence of Charles L. Copestick, 29, of East Liverpool, convicted in the pistol slaying of his wife, Rebecca Mae, 19, last June.

The former pottery wareboy, sentenced Nov. 16 after a jury trial, was scheduled to go to the electric chair April 12.

The Appellate Court sustained the motion for a stay of execution filed here Monday after Copestick's counsel, Donald D. Shay and G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool, argued his appeal before the tribunal. The court has the appeal under study.

Following the Appellate Court order, Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey this morning forwarded a copy of the stay of execution notice to Warden E. L. Maxwell at Ohio State Penitentiary by registered mail.

On Conspiracy Charge

Shaw Will Stand Trial In Kennedy Death Charges

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A three-judge panel ruled in a preliminary hearing Friday that wealthy retired business leader Clay L. Shaw should become the first man to stand trial concerning the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

In ordering the trial for Shaw on a charge of conspiracy to murder the president, Judge Bernard J. Bagert said at the conclusion of the four-day hearing, "This court finds sufficient evidence has been presented to establish probable cause that a crime has been committed."

The ruling came on Shaw's 54th birthday.

The decision was a first-round victory for gun-toting Jim Garrison, this town's 6-foot-6 district attorney. Garrison startled the world a month ago with a statement that he had "solved" the Kennedy assassination, would make arrests, and would obtain convictions.

Garrison, unorthodox and controversial in his five years as district attorney, took an unusual step in asking for the preliminary hearing — a tactic usually resorted to by defense lawyers.

The next step: "I will file a bill of information," Garrison drewled to newsmen shortly after the panel announced its unanimous decision. He would not say when the action would be taken.

Arraignment and trial came afterward. No dates were set.

"The district attorney selects the date and time a person will be tried," said Judge Bagert, who had asked two of his fellow Criminal District Court judges to sit with him at the preliminary hearing because of its importance.

"The state has six years to prove this case," said defense attorney William Wegmann, in his impassioned plea to the court to throw out the charges.

After the decision, Bill Gurvich, chief investigator for Garrison's office, told newsmen: "We won. If we had needed more goods we would have brought them in."

Perry Raymond Russo, 25, was Garrison's star witness. Russo, a Baton Rouge insurance salesman, told the court he was present in the New Orleans apartment of David W. Ferrie in mid-September 1963 and heard Lee Harvey Oswald, Shaw and Ferrie plotting to assassinate Kennedy.

The plan, Russo testified, involved "triangulation of cross-fire," diversionary shooting, a possible flight to Mexico and Cuba, the sacrificing of one man as a scapegoat to permit the others to escape.

Of the three alleged conspirators, only Shaw, who stepped down as managing director of the International Trade Mart here 16 months ago, is alive. Oswald was shot fatally by Jack Ruby, in the Dallas police station two days after the Nov. 22, 1963 assassination of Kennedy.

Aides Don't Expect Any Key Actions

Decisions Are Due
On Development Of Taken Over Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson embarks tonight on his second trans-Pacific journey in five months — striving once more to emphasize his dedication to the works of peace in Vietnam.

High administration officials insisted they expect no major military decisions to emerge from Johnson's two days of talks in Guam — about 8,250 miles from Washington.

They said the big question instead would be how to advance the political, social and economic development of sections of South Vietnam wrested from Communist control.

There has been considerable speculation that Johnson might use the occasion of his Guam visit to elevate Gen. William C. Westmoreland to full commander of all American forces in Southeast Asia. But officials said they do not expect such a development.

They also said they don't think Westmoreland would choose this occasion to ask for more troops. But they said that was a matter for the general to decide.

The White House said Johnson hoped to take off on his 18-hour, one-stop flight to Guam around midnight after spending all day and evening courting the nation's governors.

Perhaps for security reasons, there was no word on whether Johnson's big jet would make a refueling stop in Alaska or Hawaii. Moreover, nothing was being said here about where Johnson would be quartered on Guam, which is little more than an American military bastion.

Farmers Eye NFO Chapter For Beaver

Organization of a Beaver County chapter of the National Farm Organization was discussed at a meeting of dairy farmers Friday night at the Hookstown Grange Hall.

Nine attended the two-hour discussion of the NFO's structure and its program to assist farmers.

Kenneth Soisson of the Little Blue Rd., who called the session, said plans are being made for another meeting early next week at which a representative of the national organization will speak.

Twenty-five are needed to obtain a county NFO charter, and nine farmers have been signed. Soisson, who attended a NFO meeting earlier this week at Portersville, said a Washington County chapter was chartered last night with 60 members.

A number of NFO units in Ohio and northern Pennsylvania have been dumping milk this week in a move to boost the price of milk obtained by farmers by limiting supplies.

There have been no reports of milk dumping in the immediate area.

Soisson said milk dumping is not currently planned by the farmers currently interested in the NFO, but some action is planned if the pricing structure is not improved.

Lower Rate Eyed For Schools By Ohio Power Co.

CANTON — The Ohio Power Co. is seeking approval by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio of its application to lower electric rates for more than 700 schools it serves in 53 of Ohio's 88 counties.

It is estimated that the proposed new rate, which is optional on the part of the schools, would affect 81 per cent of the total served by Ohio Power and would save them approximately $238,000 annually. No school would be increased under the new tariff.

The new rate would be based upon the square feet of floor space in a school building. The first 300 kilowatt hours used per month for each 1,000 square feet of enclosed area would be billed at the rate of 2.5 cents per kwh. with the balance at 0.6 cents per kwh.

The rate would be available to all school buildings served by the company, except individual residences which may be a part of a school system or those facilities not normally a part of or directly associated with primary and secondary school, college and university functions.

Survey Made On Guilford Sewer Plans

LISBON — Guilford Lake property owners received letters Friday asking their support of a proposed sanitary sewer system for the lake area.

Each letter contained a half-sheet enclosure reading:

"This is to petition Columbiana County Board of Commissioners to proceed with detail engineering on the plans for the proposed sewer project to serve the Guilford Lake area of county Sewer District 2. Please indicate on space below your answer."

The forms have blanks for "yes" or "no" answers and for the owner's name and address. They are to be returned to the Commissioners' office. Four "yes" answers had been received before 8:30 this morning.

County Commissioners have received a preliminary survey which establishes the feasibility of the system and the need for it from a public health standpoint.

The letters were drafted by the Guilford Lake Civic Association and went to owners of some 870 parcels in the lake area.

The proposed sewer system was the subject of the Association's quarterly meeting Jan. 26 and will be discussed again at the April 27 meeting in Guilford Fire Station.

At the January meeting, Sharon Quigley of the county engineer's office said he believes the lake can have an operating sewer district in approximately two years if a good majority of the landowners ask the Commissioners to proceed.

Preliminary plans prepared by William E. Quicksall & Associates, consulting engineers, call for a 70,000-foot collection system around the lake and an aerobic digestion disposal system between the spillway and Route 172.

Two Minor Mishaps Reported At Lisbon

LISBON — No one was cited in two minor traffic accidents investigated Friday by Lisbon police.

They said a 1959 sedan driven by Barbara Cusick, 34, of Lisbon R. D. 5, slid on snow and ice as she turned from N. Market St. onto Spruce St. and hit the left front door of a 1965 sedan operated by David M. Wymer, 32, of 232 Lee Ave.

He had halted on Spruce for the Market St. stop sign, police said. The mishap occurred at 4:15 p.m.

Cars operated by Frank M. Guy, 47, of Lisbon R. D. 5 and John K. Hammett, 36, of 444 E. Chestnut St., collided at 9:15 a.m. in the alley beside the post office. Police said Guy backed from the parking lot behind the post office and hit the right front door of Hammett's vehicle.

State Informs Commissioners

Gate Valve To Be Closed At Dam At Highlandtown

LISBON — The Highlandtown Lake dam gate valve will be "closed completely" Monday by order of the state of Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

Construction of the 45-foot-high dam which will impound 178 acres of water was completed last July.

County commissioners received the state's letter Thursday. It suggested they remove anything which will be inundated. County officials said they have no plans to remove an iron truss bridge on the old Steubenville Rd., which runs north from Highlandtown across the basin.

Ben Pierce, executive assistant of the department, made mention of the bridge in his letter and said it would make good habitat for fish if the county chooses to leave it there.

to use the road even though it has been under water during wet spells.

Pierce said it is necessary to do some advance planning on the lake area due to the amount of rainfall and runoff in the last few weeks.

He said township roads 773 and 887 at the upper or western end of the lake are to be rebuilt this summer under traffic and detours provided. There are also boat-launching sites and internal improvements to be made adjacent to the lake this season, he added.

"To make these improvements, it will be necessary to keep the lake at or below elevation 1,063 (feet above sea level) during construction," Pierce said. This elevation is approximately eight feet over the road. The elevation of the lake when full will be 1,076 feet.

Lower Rate Eyed

For Schools By Ohio Power Co.

CANTON — The Ohio Power Co. is seeking approval by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio of its application to lower electric rates for more than 700 schools it serves in 53 of Ohio's 88 counties.

It is estimated that the proposed new rate, which is optional on the part of the schools, would affect 81 per cent of the total served by Ohio Power and would save them approximately $238,000 annually. No school would be increased under the new tariff.

The new rate would be based upon the square feet of floor space in a school building. The first 300 kilowatt hours used per month for each 1,000 square feet of enclosed area would be billed at the rate of 2.5 cents per kwh, with the balance at 0.6 cents per kwh.

The rate would be available to all school buildings served by the company, except individual residences which may be a part of a school system or those facilities not normally a part of or directly associated with primary and secondary school, college and university functions.

Survey Made

On Guilford Sewer Plans

LISBON — Guilford Lake property owners received letters Friday asking their support of a proposed sanitary sewer system for the lake area.

Each letter contained a half-sheet enclosure reading: "This is to petition Columbiana County Board of Commissioners to proceed with detail engineering on the plans for the proposed sewer project to serve the Guilford Lake area of county Sewer District 2. Please indicate on space below your answer."

The forms have blanks for "yes" or "no" answers and for the owner's name and address. They are to be returned to the Commissioners' office. Four "yes" answers had been received before 8:30 this morning.

County Commissioners have received a preliminary survey which establishes the feasibility of the system and the need for it from a public health standpoint.

The letters were drafted by the Guilford Lake Civic Association and went to owners of some 870 parcels in the lake area.

The proposed sewer system was the subject of the Association's quarterly meeting Jan. 26 and will be discussed again at the April 27 meeting in Guilford Fire Station.

At the January meeting, Sharon Quigley of the county engineer's office said he believes the lake can have an operating sewer district in approximately two years if a good majority of the landowners ask the Commissioners to proceed.

Preliminary plans prepared by William E. Quicksall & Associates, consulting engineers, call for a 70,000-foot collection system around the lake and an aerobic digestion disposal system between the spillway and Route 172.

State Informs Commissioners

Gate Valve To Be Closed

At Dam At Highlandtown

LISBON — The Highlandtown Lake dam gate valve will be "closed completely" Monday by order of the state of Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

Construction of the 45-foot-high dam which will impound 178 acres of water was completed last July.

County commissioners received the state's letter Thursday. It suggested they remove anything which will be inundated. County officials said they have no plans to remove an iron truss bridge on the old Steubenville Rd., which runs north from Highlandtown across the basin.

Ben Pierce, executive assistant of the department, made mention of the bridge in his letter and said it would make good habitat for fish if the county chooses to leave it there.

Commissioners last year vacated the old Steubenville Rd. Area residents have continued to use the road even though it has been under water during wet spells.

Pierce said it is necessary to do some advance planning on the lake area due to the amount of rainfall and runoff in the last few weeks.

He said township roads 773 and 887 at the upper or western end of the lake are to be rebuilt this summer under traffic and detours provided. There are also boat-launching sites and internal improvements to be made adjacent to the lake this season, he added.

"To make these improvements, it will be necessary to keep the lake at or below elevation 1,063 (feet above sea level) during construction," Pierce said. This elevation is approximately eight feet over the road. The elevation of the lake when full will be 1,076 feet.

Governors, President Confer At Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's governors converge on the White House today with Republicans among them seemingly determined to avoid voicing a new support for President Johnson's Vietnam policies.

There had been indications Johnson might seek a resolution from the governors endorsing his war policies. They have given him such public backing in the past, and one today would coincide with his trip to Guam to discuss the war.

But Republican governors, at a meeting Friday night, apparently moved to head off a showdown on the politically touchy issue.

The White House said all but 5 of the 54 state and territorial governors accepted presidential invitations for a day of socializing and serious business. This made it about the biggest and longest of seven sessions Johnson has held with groups of governors.

The President slated this one for the day of his midnight take-off for Guam and consultations with his military commander in Vietnam, his old and new diplomatic team there and South Vietnamese leaders.

Whether there was any particular significance in the timing of this get-together with the state chief executives was a matter of unanswered conjecture. But on past occasions the governors have given Johnson bipartisan votes of confidence on Vietnam.

The day-long briefings on domestic and international matters, including the war beyond the Pacific, were assigned to Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and other Cabinet members and officials. The windup is a black tie dinner tonight for governors and wives — and in one instance for a governor and husband, Lurleen and George A. Wallace of Alabama.

The lady governor gets to sit in on all the official briefings. But her ex-governor husband got no invitation to a beautification tour, luncheon and movie Mrs. Johnson set up for wives.

Johnson may have warmed up the climate for morning briefings on strengthening and improving relations between federal, state and local governments.

Friday he released $791 million in federal money he tied up last fall in an effort to cool off inflationary pressures. Included was $350 million for federal aid to highways, $250 million in special mortgage assistance to low cost housing and $90 million for local flood control and other public works projects of the Army Engineers.

The White House said five governors unable to be present today because of prior commitments were: Roger D. Branigin, Indiana; Edward T. Breathitt, Kentucky; John J. McKeithen, Louisiana; Paul Laxalt, Nevada, and Warren P. Knowles, Wisconsin.

The acceptances included those of at least one Republican with possible designs on the job of his host, Michigan's George Romney.

Composition Of Health Unit To Mark Monday's Meeting

LISBON — Composition of the Columbiana County Board of Health will take precedence over usual complaints at the monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Courthouse.

An opinion of Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis puts two seats on the five-man board in jeopardy.

The prosecutor says it is improper for more than one person from a township to be on the board at the same time. He gave this opinion last March and again 10 days ago.

Francis Bezdek of Lisbon R.D. 5, elected March 6 by the county Health Advisory Council to succeed Howard M. Cole of Lisbon, lives in Elkrun Township as does member Glen Hawkins of New Waterford R.D. 1.

Bezdek intends to be present Monday to take the vacant chair, but there are indications the prosecutor's opinion will be used to challenge him.

That could lead to a counter challenge of member Frank Murray of Lisbon R.D. 4, seated last year when Cole, an attorney, was on the board. Both reside in Center Township. Murray was seated despite the prosecutor's letter.

Other members of the board are Fred H. Johnson of Summitville, Franklin Township, and Dr. Paul H. Beaver, Leetonia physician, Salem Township.

The advisory council — mayors of all villages and chairmen of trustees from the 18 townships — meets by law the first Monday in March to elect a board of health member for a five-year term. Vacancies occurring after the first Monday in March have to be filled by the board itself.

The action by the board assured continuation of the Kent Center here, to which the board of education earlier this year turned over the present high school building, to be used by Kent when the new high school on Huston Hill is completed in 1968.

Kent already has installed considerable laboratory equipment and other items for use of its students now taking classes at the high school.

Approving the resolution yesterday were Chairman John Marshall Briley of Toledo, Robert Doolittle of Youngstown, William Zimmer of Cincinnati, Robert Lazarus of Columbus and A. G. Thatcher of Portsmouth.

Thatcher submitted the resolution for the Kent State branch. Briley left the meeting briefly to receive a telephone request for the regents to postpone a decision until their April 21 meeting.

The chairman said he opposed further delay.

Jack Bonner of Maine Blvd. health commissioner, said he investigated an additional 127 complaints.

Miss Selma Ladzinske, public health nurse, reported she made 173 investigations. Mrs. Louella Bevan, registrar of vital statistics, reported 79 births and 41 deaths from Feb. 16-March 15. There were 36 males and 42 females born and 25 males, 14 females and one child who died.

Bills amounting to $2,010 were paid.

Governors, President Confer At Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's governors converge on the White House today with Republicans among them seemingly determined to avoid voicing a new support for President Johnson's Vietnam policies.

There had been indications Johnson might seek a resolution from the governors endorsing his war policies. They have given him such public backing in the past, and one today would coincide with his trip to Guam to discuss the war.

But Republican governors, at a meeting Friday night, apparently moved to head off a showdown on the politically touchy issue.

The White House said all but 5 of the 54 state and territorial governors accepted presidential invitations for a day of socializing and serious business. This made it about the biggest and longest of seven sessions Johnson has held with groups of governors.

The President slated this one for the day of his midnight take-off for Guam and consultations with his military commander in Vietnam, his old and new diplomatic team there and South Vietnamese leaders.

Whether there was any particular significance in the timing of this get-together with the state chief executives was a matter of unanswered conjecture. But on past occasions the governors have given Johnson bipartisan votes of confidence on Vietnam.

The day-long briefings on domestic and international matters, including the war beyond the Pacific, were assigned to Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and other Cabinet members and officials. The windup is a black tie dinner tonight for governors and wives — and in one instance for a governor and husband, Lurleen and George A. Wallace of Alabama. The lady governor gets to sit in on all the official briefings. But her ex-governor husband got no invitation to a beautification tour, luncheon and movie Mrs. Johnson set up for wives.

Johnson may have warmed up the climate for morning briefings on strengthening and improving relations between federal, state and local governments.

Friday he released $791 million in federal money he tied up last fall in an effort to cool off inflationary pressures. Included was $350 million for federal aid to highways, $250 million in special mortgage assistance to low cost housing and $90 million for local food control and other public works projects of the Army Engineers.

The White House said five governors unable to be present today because of prior commitments were: Roger D. Branigin, Indiana; Edward T. Breathitt, Kentucky; John J. McKeithen, Louisiana; Paul Laxalt, Nevada, and Warren P. Knowles, Wisconsin.

The acceptances included those of at least one Republican with possible designs on the job of his host, Michigan's George Romney.

Composition Of Health Unit To Mark Monday's Meeting

LISBON — Composition of the Columbiana County Board of Health will take precedence over usual complaints at the monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Courthouse.

An opinion of Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis puts two seats on the five-man board in jeopardy.

The prosecutor says it is improper for more than one person from a township to be on the board at the same time. He gave this opinion last March and again 10 days ago.

Francis Bezdek of Lisbon R.D. 5, elected March 6 by the county Health Advisory Council to succeed Howard M. Cole of Lisbon, lives in Elkrun Township as does member Glen Hawkins of New Waterford R.D. 1.

Bezdek intends to be present Monday to take the vacant chair, but there are indications the prosecutor's opinion will be used to challenge him.

That could lead to a counter challenge of member Frank Murray of Lisbon R.D. 4, seated last year when Cole, an attorney, was on the board. Both reside in Center Township. Murray was seated despite the prosecutor's letter.

Other members of the board are Fred H. Johnson of Summitville, Franklin Township, and Dr. Paul H. Beaver, Leetonia physician, Salem Township.

The advisory council — mayors of all villages and chairmen of trustees from the 18 townships — meets by law the first Monday in March to elect a board of health member for a five-year term. Vacancies occurring after the first Monday in March have to be filled by the board itself.

The Decision Of The Regents

The proposal for a Columbiana County Community College, long debated and not without some merit, apparently has been pigeonholed by Friday's action by the Ohio Board of Regents.

Proponents of the college in attempting to establish a community education program including college and technical and trades training had a fundamentally good idea.

Difficult for many to understand, however, was in what way a new community college could better offer the college student what the Kent centers were not already providing with capable and experienced staffs at no direct expense to the county taxpayer.

What Columbiana County needs is not so much another college as a broader technical and trades training program for young people not planning to get a bachelor degree.

This need was shown in the post-high school plans survey conducted for the community college program.

Kent State has been authorized to offer an associate degree in technical training at Salem, and will do so in East Liverpool as soon as the present high school is made available for Kent's use — again, at no direct cost to the county taxpayer.

But the need for training skilled or semi-skilled workers to meet area industry and business requirements remains.

At Salem, this need is already being met by the Trade School and the Kent technical offerings.

At East Liverpool, there must be a development of such a program.

Throughout the county, however, there should be a broadening and improvement of the high school vocational curriculum to pave the way for post-high school training.

Most public school systems of the area face problems of financing minimum operations of their schools.

Solutions must be worked out to better the high school vocational programs and to provide an after-graduation training of young people needed for area industry and business positions which do not require extensive education.

One thing the community college proposal has done is to make the public more aware of the problems of higher education, what is being done, what remains to be done in solving them and the best way to fit the needs and resources of the county and its communities.

Air, Water—And Earth

A proposal to legalize disposal of industrial wastes in deep wells is being drafted in Columbiana.

The measure reportedly will limit where and how much waste can be discharged and regulate the type of waste disposed of in this manner.

The Ohio Department of Natural Resources is backing the bill in an as a means of reducing the amount of waste being dumped in state streams. The department feels there will be no contamination.

It points out other states have been using the procedure for some years without ill effects.

When the measure is debated, there naturally will be apprehension.

Letter From Max

Dear Truman Twill:

One of my favorite conversationalists dropped in the other day for a chat.

It is always pleasant to talk with him because in one way or another he takes a slam at everybody but is not too bitter about it. He appears to be content enough, even though to hear him talk you would think things were in a terrible fix all around.

He says rich people up to their ears in dough are usually the stingiest and squawk loudest about paying a fair price.

Next, that the unions have forced wages so high no one can afford them, inflation is rampant and union bosses have a stronghold on the nation.

This puts the average middle-income guy like him between the upper and nether millstones with no hope but to do the best he can to stay even.

After he leaves, it makes a nice mental pastime to try to figure out just how he got from Point A to Point B, what his major premise was and what he proposed to do about solving all these terrible problems.

Sometimes he gives a hint at how he would set things right. He says, "The voters got to wake up and get the right people in office." Ever hear that before?

Then my friend starts humming a catchy tune, shrugs and departs with the explanation, "Can't stay any longer. I've got a lot more to do today."

Then you start thinking about everything he said and decide he really doesn't have it as bad as he makes out and if he keeps on the go

Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: Your aunt and I went to the big city to meet an incoming plane yesterday, and our eyes are still buggy.

We had been reading about the Age of Aviation, but it has to be seen to be believed. It made us think of what it used to be like when we went to the big city to meet a train. That was exciting — but nothing like a big airport.

People were milling around in the terminal building like actors in a motion picture mob scene. It was wild. It scared us.

We wandered into a restaurant to keep from being trampled and had a couple of $5 snacks. When the check was laid on the table I picked it up and gasped — $5 and some odd cents. I thought we had paid $2.50 apiece, which was outrageous.

Then I picked up this other piece of paper that turned out to be just a little short of $5. I remembered that in a high-class joint you are supposed to leave a tip of between 10 and 15 per cent, but that was too rich for my blood.

I left a whole dollar as a down payment on my status, to prove I was used to the better things of life. Your aunt stuffed all the surplus rolls and sugar packages into her handbag and we left. I considered asking for a doggie bag to take home the remnants of the snack but concluded that would not be in keeping with high-class surroundings.

The snack episode was accidental. I dwell on it only because I am a near man with a dollar and remember the ham sandwiches we used to eat in railroad stations. They kept them in a big glass jar with a lid on it, to ward off the flies, and they sold for 15 cents. One would fill you to the top.

What fascinated us was the planes and the announcements of where they were going. Those people milling around were going to and coming from places so far away that once their departures and arrivals would have been bash occasions.

Today, people go and come by plane with no more fuss than going to work and back in the

When we started dumping waste into our streams, who visualized a national problem of water pollution? Even with control measures, the situation still exists.

If the well disposal principle gained acceptance throughout the nation over a period of years, what danger would the buildup present? What is the chance of unexpected results?

A device for laying at rest dead industrial wastes would be welcome indeed.

But with a record that includes stagnant streams and dirty air, let's proceed cautiously with the matter of making mother earth a garbage can for industry, too.

By Martin Miller

the way he is he will be as well off as anyone. Maybe better than most.

BEFORE this latest foulup with the CIA gets completely out of the news — and I hope it does soon — I should tell you about a book I read several years ago about the Office of Strategic Services (OSS).

The OSS was established in World War II to do something like the CIA is doing now. At the close of the war, CIA grew out of OSS.

This book is "You're Stepping on My Cloak and Dagger" by Roger Hall. If you think CIA is having a tough time, you should read what the book says about the OSS.

The book is very funny and purports to be a true account of Hall's experiences in the OSS. But underlying the entire story is the implication of the life-and-death struggle going on.

His learning to parachute jump and the account of his jump into combat in France are hilarious.

He sets the tone of the book by explaining at the outset that OSS headquarters in Washington was in an old building between a brewery and a mental hospital. That is where CIA headquarters were, too, for a time after the war.

TV treats of the last couple of weeks were Hal Holbrook doing Mark Twain, songs by Barbara McNair and Duke Ellington, and comedy by Donna Jean Young. You really missed something if you didn't see them.

By Truman Twill

same town. Businessmen cover more territory and charge off the cost to business expense, which explains the $5 meals. We could have paid even more than that, you know, if we had wanted soup and dessert.

We have been told the big spenders also eat $5 snacks on the planes, though they don't pay for those directly. It's in the cost of the ticket, also deductible and there is one snooty section of the plane where customers not only eat but drink free and get their backs rubbed by beautiful stewardesses — all deductible.

I strongly wish the lady I meet incoming planes with and I had been born a little later — say about 50 years later. I think I would go to Australia, a place I've always wanted to see.

I remember when Wendell Willkie, the barefoot boy from Wall Street, discovered this was "One World," via airplane. He turned "One World" into a catchword for millions. That restaurant where we ate yesterday had "One World" printed on everything.

If I ever fly to Australia, I will swipe a "One World" souvenir to take with me. I will put the souvenir in a kangaroo's reticule and eventually a bushman will find it and know your kindly, gadabout, last-of-the-big-spenders uncle was there.

I don't plan to take your Aunt Effie with me. Not at $5 a snack. I'd be broke before we got to Sydney.

A Real Chinese Puzzle!

Reuther May Bolt AFL-CIO

By Victor Riesel

ATLANTIC CITY — For decades, labor history has tramped the boardwalk here. And now Walter Reuther has decided to jog along with it.

He has decided to take a fast walk right out of the AFL-CIO.

His intimates gathered here at a cataclysmic and catalytic United Auto Workers skilled craftsmen conference, report that the auto union chief has definitely decided to take his massive union out of George Meany's coalition.

From now on, they say, it is merely a matter of timing — and "Walter" is a master timer.

But as Reuther has thought it all out in his Fort Myers, Fla., retreat, he will not walk alone for long. He is, if anything, a man of imaginative political instincts.

And so he will attempt to forge a mighty labor-political alliance with Bob Kennedy.

But first things first. The exodus will come when the Reuther brothers believe they can hit with the most dramatic impact.

THEY ARE READY. They need but the technical approval of the "special" policy convention in late April.

They have alerted hundreds of local auto union leaders in New York, Illinois, Michigan and California.

Each will know how to move when Reuther, in an administration white paper, gives the signal by calling a special international executive board meeting any time after May 1st. Already some auto union councils are splitting from central and state AFL-CIO bodies.

Reuther may wait until he gets a contract with the big three auto companies — and it will be a good one — sometime in November after a tough strike.

Then his legions will march. And they are well equipped for the political and sociological wars.

His auto union is a massive federation within itself. It has a political arm in its Citizenship Councils; a welfare and senior citizens division in its Community Services and Retired Workers Dept.; civil rights machinery in a hundred cities, especially Chicago where it is tied into the Southern Christian Leadership Conference of Martin Luther King and the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations; and a global international department.

The UAW is the financial sponsor of the Citizens Crusade Against Poverty (CCAP) and so is set for alliance with thousands of "working poor" units. The International union is in everything from anti-air pollution to medicare counseling centers.

IT IS, IN EFFECT, the mass sociological base needed by Sen. Robert Kennedy's national organization — call this latter what you will, a "government in exile" or simply what it is, the Kennedy wing of the Democratic Party, historically a many-winged entity.

For Walter Reuther and Bob Kennedy, this means doing what comes naturally. They have been friends for a long time.

Close collaboration began when Barry Goldwater demanded that the McClellan Committee probe the auto union. Reuther loved this. He dispatched his executive assistant, Jack Conway, to work with the committee's counsel, the young Bobby Kennedy.

From all this flowered a beautiful friendship. To this day Jack Conway is the liaison between Reuther and the Senator. To this day, "Walter" is American labor to Kennedy and his brain trust, Arthur Schlesinger Jr. and Co.

To this day the auto union envoy to the Kennedy forces is Walter's younger brother Victor.

To this day, the Reuther-Kennedy milieu share their lack of enthusiasm over Meany and the "old line" AFL-CIO unions.

To this day, the Reuther-Kennedy-Schlesinger disdain for the Federation hawks is one of the most common denominators of both camps.

To this day, President Johnson and George Meany run neck and neck as butts for the inside jokes and outside blistering attacks by the Reuther-Kennedy policymakers.

THUS, it is not likely that Bob Kennedy ever could get mass support from American labor. So he needs a mass base — and this Reuther might be able to supply in the big cities as well as on the agricultural front.

In the 1964 and 1966 campaigns, the national auto union concentrated its money and manpower on Kennedy candidates.

Of course, Walter Reuther looks ahead to a Bob Kennedy administration. The Detroiters has cut his conduits to a Johnson White House.

If Kennedy makes it in '68, so much the better for Reuther. But '72 would satisfy the auto union chief, too.

By that time, he will be 65 years old — and in his last term as UAW president. What then? There is precedent.

Is not his old lawyer, Arthur Goldberg, the spokesman for the U.S. before the eyes of the world in the United Nations? Does not "Arthur" have as much influence on American foreign policy as Secretary of State Dean Rusk? Do not people talk of "Arthur" as the next Secretary of State?

Would such an arena not be the place for Walter Reuther's final conflict?

This is what some of those close to the "red-head" say his dreams are made of these days.

Pure gold is known, in the jewelry trade, as 24-carat gold, but this is too soft a metal for ordinary wear and tear. So a harder metal, generally copper, is alloyed with gold. If the alloy has 18 parts of gold and 6 parts of another metal, we call it 18-carat gold, and if it has 14 parts of gold and 10 of another metal, we call it 14-carat gold, and so on.

The View From Moscow

Perhaps CIA hasn't this message on file, but certainly an efficient intelligence agency in the midst of war must have an equivalent record of what the Soviet Union has recently been telling its avowed ally — the North Vietnamese government in Hanoi.

If revealed, it doubtless would be discovered that the Russians had said:

"Keep on fighting. Keep on demanding peace, and be sure to insist that the Americans stop the bombing and send their troops back home. The United States government is getting discouraged. The people are divided. A few days ago, 2,400 college professors issued a statement demanding that the bombing be stopped. Sen. Robert Kennedy urges virtually the same thing, and they say he is running for president and can defeat Johnson.

"Don't worry about your casualties. You are inflicting greater damage on South Vietnam and on the Americans. Your mortar fire is excellent, and don't worry if you kill civilians, too. The Americans haven't been told much about this — they are being told instead that only their planes kill civilians.

"You can win the war. The Americans will sooner or later stop the bombing, and you, of course, will keep on your guerrilla fighting and terrorism. You don't have to agree to anything in advance to get the Americans to stop bombing.

"We know you need weapons and supplies, and we have sent you more in the first two months of this year than we did all last year — including larger mortars and rocket launchers.

"We're sending lots of it by ship, but most of it is going overland. The enemy will not dare to bomb us. They didn't bomb the supply lines north of the Yalu River in the Korean War, even though the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff recommended it.

"The Americans will soon tire of the war and try to wiggle out somehow, but don't forget — your terms must be unconditional surrender.

"The United States is begging us for peace. It is even trying to butter us up by a new consular treaty that gives us a chance to put more of our agents in American cities. And now we seem to have the Senate on our side, as the members are openly saying they do not want to offend us.

"It's true Premier Kosygin talked peace when he was in London, but some of the other leaders in the Kremlin reprimanded him a bit when he got back. Anyway, he gave the Americans the impression that if they curry favor with us they'll be better off and that maybe we'll end the war in Vietnam.

"But we have told the world that we haven't a thing to do with your policies and that you make your own decisions. So we keep on urging the Americans to stop the bombing 'unconditionally and permanently.' We expect shortly more college professors in America to sign petitions demanding the same thing."

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Dean Rusk speaks frankly to the American people and describes how utterly ineffective have been the efforts to get the North Vietnamese to a conference to discuss ending the war. He said on the TV program "Issues and Answers" over the ABC Network:

"Now when the other side insists that the cessation of bombing must be unconditional and permanent, we need to know what is going to happen. If we give a commitment that we will stop the bombing permanently, we need to know what is going to happen, and thus far no one — Mr. Kosygin, the secretary general of the U.S., Hanoi, anyone — no one has been able to give us the slightest indication — I say 'able,' or perhaps willing — to give us the slightest indication as to what the result would be if we stopped the bombing."

The mystery of it all is how the Soviet Union and, indeed, the Red Chinese get away with their outright aid to the enemy of the United States in Vietnam.

Nor has the American government gone into the public forum to tell the world that the Soviet Union is deliberately preventing the war in Vietnam from coming to an end.

The Decision Of The Regents

The proposal for a Columbiana County Community College, long debated and not without some merit, apparently has been pigeonholed by Friday's action by the Ohio Board of Regents.

Proponents of the college in attempting to establish a community education program including college and technical and trades training had a fundamentally good idea.

Difficult for many to understand, however, was in what way a new community college could better offer the college student what the Kent centers were not already providing with capable and experienced staffs at no direct expense to the county taxpayer.

What Columbiana County needs is not so much another college as a broader technical and trades training program for young people not planning to get a bachelor degree.

This need was shown in the post-high school plans survey conducted for the community college program.

Kent State has been authorized to offer an associate degree in technical training at Salem, and will do so in East Liverpool as soon as the present high school is made available for Kent's use — again, at no direct cost to the county taxpayer.

But the need for training skilled or semi-skilled workers to meet area industry and business requirements remains.

At Salem, this need is already being met by the Trade School and the Kent technical offerings.

At East Liverpool, there must be a development of such a program.

Throughout the county, however, there should be a broadening and improvement of the high school vocational curriculum to pave the way for post-high school training.

Most public school systems of the area face problems of financing minimum operations of their schools.

Solutions must be worked out to better the high school vocational programs and to provide an after-graduation training of young people needed for area industry and business positions which do not require extensive education.

One thing the community college proposal has done is to make the public more aware of the problems of higher education, what is being done, what remains to be done in solving them and the best way to fit the needs and resources of the county and its communities.

Air, Water—And Earth

A proposal to legalize disposal of industrial wastes in deep wells is being drafted in Columbus.

The measure reportedly will limit where and how much waste can be discharged and regulate the type of waste disposed of in this manner.

The Ohio Department of Natural Resources is backing the bill in an as a means of reducing the amount of waste being dumped in state streams. The department feels there will be no contamination.

It points out other states have been using the procedure for some years without ill effects.

When the measure is debated, there naturally will be apprehension.

When we started dumping waste into our streams, who visualized a national problem of water pollution? Even with control measures, the situation still exists.

If the well disposal principle gained acceptance throughout the nation over a period of years, what danger would the buildup present? What is the chance of unexpected results?

A device for laying at rest dead industrial wastes would be welcome indeed.

But with a record that includes stagnant streams and dirty air, let's proceed cautiously with the matter of making mother earth a garbage can for industry, too.

the way he is he will be as well off as anyone. Maybe better than most.

BEFORE this latest foulup with the CIA gets completely out of the news — and I hope it does soon — I should tell you about a book I read several years ago about the Office of Strategic Services (OSS).

The OSS was established in World War II to do something like the CIA is doing now. At the close of the war, CIA grew out of OSS.

This book is "You're Stepping on My Cloak and Dagger" by Roger Hall. If you think CIA is having a tough time, you should read what the book says about the OSS.

The book is very funny and purports to be a true account of Hall's experiences in the OSS. But underlying the entire story is the implication of the life-and-death struggle going on.

His learning to parachute jump and the account of his jump into combat in France are hilarious.

He sets the tone of the book by explaining at the outset that OSS headquarters in Washington was in an old building between a brewery and a mental hospital. That is where CIA headquarters were, too, for a time after the war.

TV treats of the last couple of weeks were Hal Holbrook doing Mark Twain, songs by Barbara McNair and Duke Ellington, and comedy by Donna Jean Young. You really missed something if you didn't see them.

same town. Businessmen cover more territory and charge off the cost to business expense, which explains the $5 meals. We could have paid even more than that, you know, if we had wanted soup and dessert.

We have been told the big spenders also eat $5 snacks on the planes, though they don't pay for those directly. It's in the cost of the ticket, also deductible and there is one soper-snooty section of the plane where customers not only eat but drink free and get their backs rubbed by beautiful stewardesses — all deductible.

I strongly wish the lady I met in coming planes with and I had been born a little later — say about 50 years later. I think I would go to Australia, a place I've always wanted to see.

I remember when Wendell Willkie, the barefoot boy from Wall Street, discovered this was "One World," via airplane. He turned "One World" into a catchword for millions. That restaurant where we ate yesterday had "One World" printed on everything.

If I ever fly to Australia, I will swipe a "One World" souvenir to take with me. I will put the souvenir in a kangaroo's reticule and eventually a bushman will find it and know your kindly, gadabout, last-of-the-big-spenders uncle was there.

I don't plan to take your Aunt Effie with me. Not at $5 a snack. I'd be broke before we got to Sydney.

A Real Chinese Puzzle!

Reuther May Bolt AFL-CIO

By Victor Riesel

ATLANTIC CITY — For decades, labor history has tramped the boardwalk here. And now Walter Reuther has decided to jog along with it.

He has decided to take a fast walk right out of the AFL-CIO.

His intimates gathered here at a cataclysmic and catalytic United Auto Workers skilled craftsmen conference, report that the auto union chief has definitely decided to take his massive union out of George Meany's coalition.

From now on, they say, it is merely a matter of timing — and "Walter" is a master timer.

But as Reuther has thought it all out in his Fort Myers, Fla., retreat, he will not walk alone for long. He is, if anything, a man of imaginative political instincts.

And so he will attempt to forge a mighty labor-political alliance with Bob Kennedy.

But first things first. The exodus will come when the Reuther brothers believe they can hit with the most dramatic impact.

THEY ARE READY. They need but the technical approval of the "special" policy convention in late April.

They have alerted hundreds of local auto union leaders in New York, Illinois, Michigan and California.

Each will know how to move when Reuther, in an administration white paper, gives the signal by calling a special international executive board meeting any time after May 1st. Already some auto union councils are splitting from central and state AFL-CIO bodies.

Reuther may wait until he gets a contract with the big three auto companies — and it will be a good one — sometime in November after a tough strike.

Then his legions will march. And they are well equipped for the political and sociological wars.

His auto union is a massive federation within itself. It has a political arm in its Citizenship Councils; a welfare and senior citizens division in its Community Services and Retired Workers Dept.; civil rights machinery in a hundred cities, especially Chicago where it is tied into the Southern Christian Leadership Conference of Martin Luther King and the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations; and a global international department.

'Head Start' Programs Set Up By County CAC

LISBON — The Community Action Committee of Columbiana County, Inc., has completed arrangements for summer "Head Start" programs and is awaiting allocation of funds by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Lisbon has applied for a "Head Start" program for the first time. The other applications are from East Liverpool and Wellsville, which had "Head Start" last year.

Mrs. Helen C. Welch of Wellsville, CAC chairman, has appointed Mrs. Ella Gibson, Mrs. Oliver Spencer and Mrs. Caesar Peters, all of East Liverpool, as a nutrition and food committee for "Head Start." They will consult with Catherine Franzetta, CAC director.

On the panel will be representatives of the Ohio Dental Care Association and the Ohio Office of Opportunity. Mrs. Welch and Charles Wilfong, county "Head Start" supervisor.

Discussions on day care centers for low-income working mothers and a comprehensive health program, the latter strongly supported by the Ohio Office of Opportunity, were continued until the next meeting.

Trustees accepted the resignation of Charles J. Gause because of his position as county commissioner. Mrs. Welch will fill the vacancy by appointment.

A. — Procure linoleum cement or mastic at your hardware store, and work this under the loosened edges or corners of your linoleum, using a dull knife. Put an iron or a few heavy books over the area for at least 24 hours, until the cement has had a good chance to harden.

Methodists Will Hold Good Friday Service

Tenebrae services will be conducted at the Calvary Methodist Church on Good Friday at 8 p.m., with the church in total darkness to commemorate the Crucifixion of Jesus.

The Calvary Choir will sing and members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship also will take part. The Rev. Charles Menough is pastor.

A MOMENT OF DEDICATION

Why The First Day Of The Week?

The Bible teaches that every Christian ought to be ready to tell others his reasons for doing the things that he does. 1 Pet. 3:15. In our article last week we gave some reasons that we have for attending the public worship of the Lord's church. Now the question of the proper day for this worship comes to our mind. Some want to know why we meet on Sunday (the first day of the week) instead of Saturday (the seventh day of the week).

Let it be remembered, that God at one time commanded the Jew to remember the sabbath day to keep it holy. Ex. 20:8. The sabbath day was the seventh day of the week. This day had special significance to the Jew. It was a day that was observed in remembrance of their deliverance from the bondage of Egypt. Deut. 5:15. "And remember that thou wast a servant in the Land of Egypt, and that the Lord thy God brought thee out thence through a mighty hand and by a stretched out arm: therefore the Lord thy God commanded thee to keep the sabbath day." Some one might be wondering if God commanded that the Jew observe the sabbath day, why do people today keep Sunday or the first day of the week? The answer is found in the fact that God took away the law that commanded the sabbath. God removed the Old Testament law so that he might establish the New Testament law of Christ. Heb. 10:9 "Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second." Also notice Heb. 7:12; Heb. 9:15-17 and Col. 2:14-16. Thus the law that commanded the Jew to keep the sabbath, has been taken away by God.

It now remains for us to see what day was observed under the New Testament law of Christ. The Apostles were commanded to teach only the things that the Lord had commanded them. Mt.

28:18-20. In Acts 20:7 we read of an Apostle gathered together with other disciples and the record says, "And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul, preached unto them Also notice 1 Cor. 16:1, 2. Thus, under the new law, the disciples met on the first day of the week.

To the Jew, the sabbath had a special meaning because it was done in remembrance of the Lord delivering them from the bondage of Egypt.

To the Christian, the first day of the week has special meaning because it is the day of the resurrection of Christ. It is also the day that the church had its beginning. The disciples met on this day to commune and to give of their prosperity.

Tomorrow is the first day of the week. We extend to you a very cordial invitation to attend the services of the church of Christ. Use this day to honor and glorify the God of Heaven.

Surrealism Of The Battlefield

By JERRY NACHMAN

DEATH. Fallen Viet Cong lies at feet of faceless American soldier.

BOOBY TRAP. U.S., Viet flags over dying G.I. symbolizes allied unity.

PEACEFUL WORKER. Native harvests rice in quiet scene.

A CITY MARINE — his mind, eyes and hands acting as a prism — has stylized the grotesqueries of 12 months in Vietnam into some quietly profound statements.

Cpl. Art Smith, 19, is an artist, the ward of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Bennett of LaCroft. In stolen moments he has compressed the macabre scenes of war into a sometimes uncomfortable serenity.

At 17 he joined the Marine Corps, and some months later became a member of a combat unit for a year in Vietnam, at the front "about 100 per cent of the time."

After he returned from that front, on Oct. 10, 1965, a 39-man unit was virtually wiped out. Sixteen were killed, Smith explains, referring to them as KIA's (killed in action) and 22 were wounded (WIA). It was Cpl. Smith's old outfit.

Learning of the incident Smith pictured it instantly in his mind and reproduced the scene as "Wipe-out", a lone GI gazing skyward, a handless left arm extended out imploring by while a crimson explosion erupts around him.

Smith is a surrealist. His people look like people, but not quite. A slash represents a nose, a dab of white becomes a face. And color is the sound the taciturn Smith employs.

Loud, assaulting bursts of claret-blood punctuate his oils in scenes of death and gore, while subtle browns and greens whisper calmness in his landscapes and character studies.

An understandable syndrome crops up in Smith's works. Death ceases to be an end and becomes merely coincidental part of the message.

In "Booby Trap", Pfc. "Kick" shrugs lifelessly to the ground after stepping on a land mine. Emblazoning the background are flags of the United States and South Vietnam, signifying, Smith says, "the two countries fighting for each other, side by side."

As in the other paintings, a large, final pool of blood is included as a not-very-cryptic symbol.

Other symbols include eyes, which dot "Booby Trap" to show that "nothing goes unwatched . . . the eyes see everything."

"Death" is the title of Smith's remembrances of "Operation Double Eagle," largest amphibian offensive of the confusing war.

A faceless GI, again flanked by Vietnamese and American flags, gazes expressionlessly at the body of the first Viet Cong killed in the operation.

The dead VC lies crumpled, crushed and conquered, asserting, the corporal says, the utter invincibility of the allies.

The Marine-artist is a slight young man, Gaunt, staring and quiet, he received a shrapnel wound which hospitalized him during his year-long tour and won for him a Purple Heart.

He says he has no sympathy for the enemy and considers them professionally trained and able fighters.

Smith justifies our presence in what has been identified by Smith as a civil war by pointing to French and British aid to the Confederacy during the U.S. Civil War a century ago.

"We should be there," he explains, but would rather not expand: "I can't talk politics."

Lest his subject matter, his casualness with death or his terse explanations about war make him appear jaded, Smith has a sensitive, sublime side.

"Peaceful Worker" shows a South Vietnamese civilian harvesting rice in a murky paddy.

"If it weren't for the war, it'd be beautiful there," he says.

The painting has none of the gushing blood, exploding skies or fallen bodies his other works display.

Instead, there is a hint of a sunset, gently undulating blades of blue-green swamp grass and, most significant, a contented human being.

Smith says he saw the scene in his mind before he removed some canvas from his knapsack and sat, cross-legged, creating it.

"It's just interpretation," he explains, "I'm not concerned with technique, just how I feel at the time."

Self-trained, Smith has been "playing around" with color and form for 11 years.

He leaves the Marine Corps next year and plans on furthering his art study.

A year of grief has had its toll on the young man.

"Too many buddies have died," he stated, and termed a rest and recuperation visit in tropical Okinawa as "like any other summer."

A hint of affection shows through all the reticence, however, as noted by the careful calligraphy in the lower right corner of each picture.

Surrealism Of The Battlefield

By JERRY NACHMAN

A CITY MARINE — his mind, eyes and hands acting as a prism — has stylized the grotesqueries of 12 months in Vietnam into some quietly profound statements.

Cpl. Art Smith, 19, is an artist, the ward of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Bennett of LaCroft. In stolen moments he has compressed the macabre scenes of war into a sometimes uncomfortable serenity.

At 17 he joined the Marine Corps, and some months later became a member of a combat unit for a year in Vietnam, at the front "about 100 per cent of the time."

After he returned from that front, on Oct. 10, 1965, a 39-man unit was virtually wiped out. Sixteen were killed, Smith explains, referring to them as KIA's (killed in action) and 22 were wounded (WIA). It was Cpl. Smith's old outfit.

Learning of the incident Smith pictured it instantly in his mind and reproduced the scene as "Wipe-out", a lone GI gazing skyward, a handless left arm extended out imploring by while a crimson explosion erupts around him.

Smith is a surrealist. His people look like people, but not quite. A slash represents a nose, a dab of white becomes a face. And color is the sound the taciturn Smith employs.

Loud, assaulting bursts of claret-blood punctuate his oils in scenes of death and gore, while subtle browns and greens whisper calmness in his landscapes and character studies.

An understandable syndrome crops up in Smith's works. Death ceases to be an end and becomes merely coincidental part of the message.

In "Booby Trap", Pfc. "Kick" shrugs lifelessly to the ground after stepping on a land mine. Emblazoning the background are flags of the United States and South Vietnam, signifying, Smith says, "the two countries fighting for each other, side by side."

As in the other paintings, a large, final pool of blood is included as a not-very-cryptic symbol.

Other symbols include eyes, which dot "Booby Trap" to show that nothing goes unwatched . . . the eyes see everything."

"Death" is the title of Smith's remembrances of "Operation Double Eagle," largest amphibian offensive of the confusing war.

A faceless GI, again flanked by Vietnamese and American flags, gazes expressionlessly at the body of the first Viet Cong killed in the operation.

The dead VC lies crumpled, crushed and conquered, asserting, the corporal says, the utter invincibility of the allies.

The Marine-artist is a slight young man. Gaunt, staring and quiet, he received a shrapnel wound which hospitalized him during his year-long tour and won for him a Purple Heart.

He says he has no sympathy for the enemy and considers them professionally trained and able fighters.

Smith justifies our presence in what has been identified by Smith as a civil war by pointing to French and British aid to the Confederacy during the U.S. Civil War a century ago.

"We should be there," he explains, but would rather not expand: "I can't talk politics."

Lest his subject matter, his casualness with death or his terse explanations about war make him appear jaded, Smith has a sensitive, sublime side.

"Peaceful Worker" shows a South Vietnamese civilian harvesting rice in a murky paddy.

"If it weren't for the war, it'd be beautiful there," he says.

The painting has none of the gushing blood, exploding skies or fallen bodies his other works display.

Instead, there is a hint of a sunset, gently undulating blades of blue-green swamp grass and, most significant, a contented human being.

Smith says he saw the scene in his mind before he removed some canvas from his knapsack and sat, cross-legged, creating it.

"It's just interpretation," he explains. "I'm not concerned with technique, just how I feel at the time."

Self-trained, Smith has been "playing around" with color and form for 11 years.

He leaves the Marine Corps next year and plans on furthering his art study.

A year of grief has had its toll on the young man.

"Too many buddies have died," he stated, and termed a rest and recuperation visit in tropical Okinawa as "like any other summer."

A hint of affectation shows through all the reticence, however, as noted by the careful calligraphy in the lower right corner of each picture.

"Otto Van Schmidt" is the signature, or simply "Otto Van" a slightly inaccurate Teutonization of Smith's name.

He uses it because he is proud of his German ancestry and says he "wouldn't mind" visiting that country one day.

IN THE SPRING farmers look at seed catalogs. Home gardeners have their flower catalogs. The home handyman has brochures and books on how to improve his property. Magazines and newspapers are filled with advertisements of new products for summer fun.

And the fisherman is not left out. There are catalogs by the dozens, all showing new rods, reels, lures and various equipment that makes one want to rush out, buy them all, and then keep on going directly to your favorite fishing hole.

My desk is piled high with several of these catalogs. I really enjoy going through them. Besides the descriptions of the latest tackle on the market, they also contain good information on how to fish and what to use.

But, there is a bad side to this. They make you forget that the house needs painting, the yard needs reseeding and there are several small repair jobs that should be done.

LIKE NEW CAR manufacturers, the tackle companies attempt to put something new on the market each year.

The Fred Arbogast Co. at Akron, manufacturers of the Jitterbug and Hula Popper — two of my standbys in Beaver Creek — have come out with a new lure called the Hula Hoople. It is another surface lure with a spinner blade on the rear to make a gurgling noise.

The South Bend Tackle Co. of South Otselic, N.Y., really went all out this year with more than 60 new products. They are offering, among other things, two economy priced spinning reels. The firm also has launched a "Help Us Fight Water Pollution" campaign, using the phrase in all of its advertising.

The Haddon's Sons of Dowagiac, Mich., are featuring several wooden plugs this year. Many fishermen prefer wooden lures over the modern plastic models. Other companies also are returning to wood for lures, but they are more costly. You also can purchase pre-cut blanks and make your own wooden lures if you have a mind too.

South Bend also has wooden lures. Haddon also is offering rods with stainless steel wrappings.

Johnson Reels, of Mankato, Minn., has introduced a new low cost spincast reel to its economy series. It has several good features and is attractive for the occasional fisherman.

The Garcia Corp. of Teaneck, N. J., has several new items on the market, including a new shaped fly reel, an automatic fly reel with an adjustable line guard and in the spinning line, reels with ball roller bearings. Another spinning reel has a fast retrieve. Another innovation is the spinning reel that operates automatically.

Shakespeare Co. of Kalamazoo, Mich., is introducing several new items, including new reel models, newly styled rods, balanced tackle kits and a new line of stainless steel hooks. One new reel is a push-button spinning model. Another is a casting reel. They also have an new automatic fly reel.

The 103-year-old Pflueger Co. of Akron announced a new line of bait casting, push button and spinning reels.

IN THE CAMPING line, the Coleman Co. of Wichita, Kan., has a new heater that is adjustable, making it fine for every thing from heating a tent to warming an ice-fisherman in his hut.

It is truly fabulous what one can buy, if he has the money. But it doesn't hurt to dream.

I have only scratched the surface in outlining some of the new offerings. I didn't mention all the tackle companies, or even come close. These are just a few.

Most have catalogs which are available if you drop the firm a postcard or letter. Pick up an outdoor magazine, check out the advertisements and write a few lines. The return will be well worth your while.

I will attempt to mention new items as often as possible.

SOME 307 STUDENTS at Beaver Local Junior High School will begin a gun safety course next week.

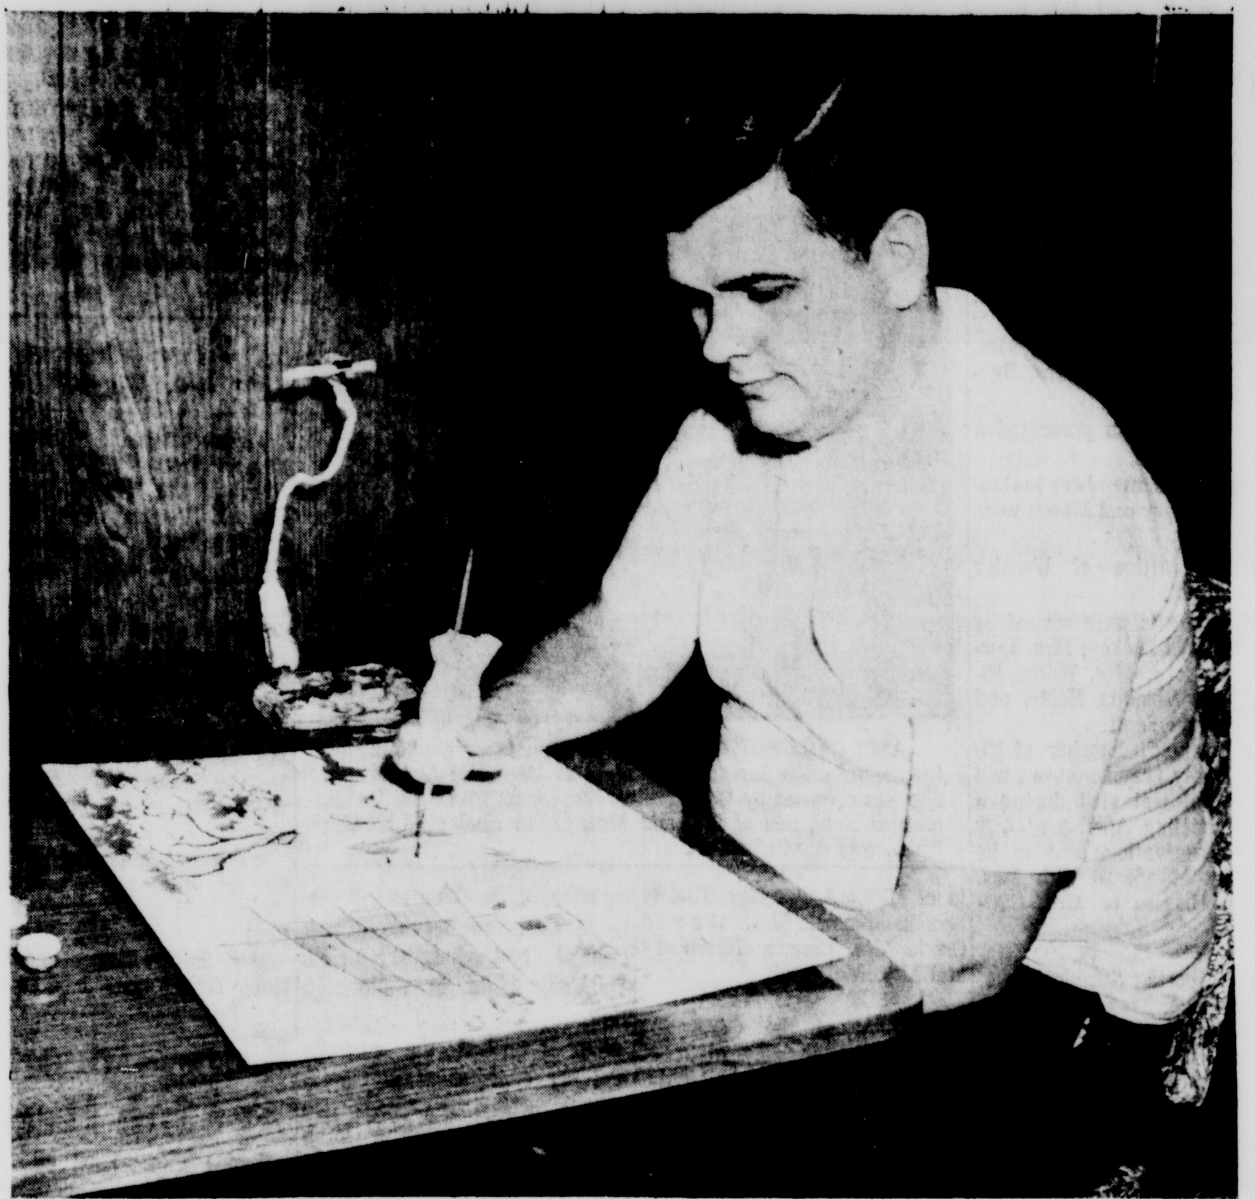

The course is being conducted by Ralph Drake, Columbiana County Game Protector, who will be assisted by Les Jones, Carroll County officer.

Fifteen students at Lisbon High completed the course this week and all passed the examinations, Drake said.

Any school official interested in having the course conducted for the students can contact Drake. There is no charge.

APPLICATIONS FOR the annual wildlife conservation award in the county are being accepted by Drake. Anyone wanting to submit the name of a landowner who has worked in wildlife practices should contact him by the end of the month.

Wellsville Man Works Hard To Overcome Injury Handicap

By LIDA SMITH

A young Wellsville man, whose hands were seriously injured in a machinery mishap at the Crucible Steel Co. Midland Works last summer, is making a comeback to normal living through determination and the marvel of modern medicine.

Harry (Bud) McClure, 26, of Wood St., Wellsville, returned this week to Presbyterian-University Hospital at Pittsburgh for further treatment and rehabilitation.

Hands that once were strong and vital partners in earning his daily living were reduced to painful, torn flesh within moments last Aug. 27 when they were caught in a rubber pinch roll.

McClure was at work on a machine used to coil steel when the cuff of his left glove became caught in the machinery, dragging his hand into the roll.

As he frantically sought to release himself, his other hand became snared. Both arms were being drawn and mangled in the equipment when he finally hauled back with tremendous strength and pulled free.

McCLURE, WHO can't remember the agonizing events until he underwent 13 hours of surgery at Presbyterian-University Hospital that afternoon and evening, has adjusted considerably well to the shock of temporarily losing the use of both hands.

The two movable, remaining parts of his right hand, which doctors said may require further surgery, are to be examined further during the current stay in the hospital.

The need for surgery depends on the proficiency of the motion and performance of the hand.

His left hand will be made serviceable through use of a prosthesis — an artificial device — against which the remaining part of the hand will be able to work and grasp objects.

Doctors speculate that both hands will eventually be adaptable to rehabilitation and re-employment.

McClure, who before his accident was an avid boat enthusiast and sportsman, was told that he will eventually be able to bowl again and be able to drive a car with special equipment.

He hopes to go back to work on the same line where the accident occurred. As he told his nurses, "It's just like falling off a horse. If you don't try again right away, it's no good."

HIS NURSES, Miss Mary Elizabeth Brown, Miss Elizabeth Straub and Mrs. Patricia Brooks, were private duty nurses who, in his opinion, "Didn't pull any punches. They put everything on the line."

McClure, who has lived with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Householder on Wood St. since his first release from the hospital, often walks in the neighborhood and around town with his niece and nephew, Robin and Timmy Householder.

In fact, when he paints — a hobby he took up in the hospital using his teeth to hold a brush before he could use his hands — Robin often paints with him. They sit at the kitchen table and create masterpieces for their home or for friends. His first work found its way to a place of honor at the hospital.

A large eater, he was kidded by his nurses about his appetite and size — he's about 6-foot-5 and weighs about 250 pounds — though most of the joking took the form of a friendly argument over who could eat "more corned beef sandwiches," he said.

Mrs. Householder worries about his weight and diet as well as that of her family in preparing meals. No doubt the quick adjustment he has made was partly due to the care shown by his sister. When he first came home she had to feed, bathe and clothe him, but now he is able to take care of himself with the exception of buttons and zippers and the like.

McClure, who smokes cigarettes in a manner best described as chain — smoking, plagued his brother-in-law to hold his cigarettes for him when he was first released from the hospital. Not one to stand around with someone else's cigarette in his hand for minutes on end, Lawrence householder fashioned a holder to take the place of his tired fingers.

A little copper tubing, some wire, an ashtray and a wooden clothespin — and not a small amount of craft — and a cigarette-holding ashtray was born! Now McClure can enjoy his habit and his brother-in-law can enjoy his new-found freedom.

LIKE MOST young men, McClure's interest is not lacking in the opposite sex. Prior to his accident, he had just about settled on "the" girl.

"We're just going to wait and see how things work out," he said. "I won't marry her until I can support her like any other husband."

The depression McClure sometimes faces when he realizes the enormity of the task ahead of him is matched by the determination he has to overcome it.

It will be with a sense of great satisfaction the first time he bowls since the accident — or when he writes the first letter by himself to his mother who is in Illinois.

His brother, Jim McClure of Texas, often calls to keep in touch. The two were close until Jim moved to Texas in 1965. The calls make McClure even more resolute to conquer his difficulties, just to prove to both of them that he can do it.

Time and patience will play a large part in the next few years of Bud McClure's life during his battle to regain normal use of his hands, but his game attitude should see him through.

Airman Keith Allison Serves With Rescue Mission Operation

By LIDA SMITH

"Ong Ay La Ngnoi The Nan?" (What kind of person is he?)

"I have learned a lot about life since I've been over here. Some of it I wish I had never seen nor heard of," said Airman 1C Keith Manson Allison Jr., radar - rescue man stationed in Tan San Nhut, South Vietnam. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Allison of Sherwood Ave.

To Allison, the most miserable part of the war may well be the hot, humid weather.

The temperature during November - December could be likened to our late spring or summer.

He'll be leaving the weather, rescue missions and homesickness behind him when he arrives home sometime in June — but memories of the rifle shots ringing in his ears and hospital rooms after he was wounded won't let him forget the war.

ALLISON WAS shot in the back last spring by the Vietcong while loading an injured soldier in a rescue plane.

One bullet passed through his body below the lungs. In a Philippine Hospital another bullet was found lodged in him. He was brought to a naval hospital in California and then came home on leave.

"Anyone can say he's not afraid when there aren't bullets flying around," he reports.

His mother says, "I'm proud

to have a son man enough to fight for what he believes in," which seems to affirm the action taken by Keith who volunteered for Vietnam duty.

Trained as a radar man at Sewart Air Base (Tenn.), he lacks about four credits of having a bachelor of science in electrical engineering. While at the base, he was also a postal clerk. In Vietnam, he delivers mail to the troops in addition to his work on bombers and rescue missions.

"The only time it gets lonely is when mail call is held and there's no letter for you," he said.

Keith, graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1963, has been in the service since fall of that year. Before entering the service he worked at the former Pearl's Market on St. Clair Ave.

HE PLANS to make the Air Force his career — but anyone needs a vacation from work and his is scheduled for March or April. He and a friend plan to visit Tokyo, Japan.

Waiting at home, besides his parents, are two sisters—Shirley, 19, and Beth Ann, 6, and a brother, Clark. His grandparents are the Rev. and Mrs. Clark Allison of Meadowbrook Circle and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Johnson of Steubenville, formerly of Wellsville.

What's in the future for Airman Allison besides the Air Force career he's chosen?

Even the soothsayers in the Saigon market - place, so popular during Tet (the new year's celebration) couldn't guess, but, as the Vietnamese would say, "Ong 'ay la 'ngnoi tot!" — "He is a good man."

The 19th annual Easter concert of the South Side Rural Chorus — consisting of 120 members from 20 area churches — will be presented tonight and Sunday nights at 8 at the Millcreek United Presbyterian Church near Hookstown.

The group was formed in 1948 as the outgrowth of the desire of the Beaver County District No. 5 Sunday School Association for special Easter music. Mrs. Lucille Pflug, member of the Mt. Pleasant United Presbyterian Church, and choir director and youth director of the Monaca United Presbyterian Church, was obtained for the new group and has served since.

Mrs. Pflug was at that time a music teacher in the Potter and Racoon township schools, but has since turned to private lessons.

The group began with some 70 members who met each Sunday afternoon for two months preceding Easter to rehearse for the Easter program.

After several years the name of the South Side Rural Chorus was selected, and the concert changed to Palm Sunday in order to permit individual participation in Eastern services of the members' own churches.

The number in the chorus has varied from 90 to 120, with members coming from Hookstown, Georgetown, Shippingport, Rochester, East Liverpool, Chester, Aliquippa Monaca, Beaver Florence, Frankfort Springs and Clinton.

Many members return each year, some with their children to carry on the tradition.

Officers are elected and committees named each year. A tea is held after one of the final rehearsals, and a month after each concert, a coverdinner is held for a program and report.

Officers this year are Miss Blanch Purdy of Monaca, president; Mrs. Ernest Gray of Racoon, vice president; Mrs. Irene Hutchinson of Monaca, secretary, and Mrs. Ruth Leeper of Millcreek.

Among the original members are Mrs. Leeper, Nelle Landers, Cora Mae Swearingen, Pearl McHaffie, Alyce Jean Hall, Bessie McElhaney, Shirley McElhaney and Harry Shane.

Paul Ogden and his youths at the Racoon State Park Youth Camp are in charge of the stage, lighting and parking. This marks the third year a group of the boys have sung in the chorus and hosted the "Family Night" program at the recreation hall at the state park.

Members pay for their own music. Offerings received at the cantata are used for missionary work and other worthy projects.

Rollin Pflug presents an inspirational message during rehearsal intermissions.

For this year's cantata, "Hallelujah for The Cross" (John Peterson), Wayne Ewing of the Aliquippa Methodist Church will be tenor soloist.

Naomi Jennings of the Crestmont Missionary and Alliance Church will also sing duets with Ewing.

Miss Margaret Abayes, also from the Crestmont Missionary and Alliance, will have the soprano solos. Mrs. Fay Sepler, Mrs. Susan Johnson, and Mrs. Ruth Leeper from the Millcreek United Presbyterian Church will be in a trio.

Ogden, head counselor at the Racoon State Forestry Camp, will be the narrator.

The pianist is Mrs. Virginia Neilsen from Sewickley Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Alyce Jean Hall, a daughter of the Pflugs, is the organist and is from the Riverside U.P. Church.

County Farm Bureau To Ask Support For Dairy Program

LISBON — The board of directors of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau Federation voted Thursday night to ask Sens. Frank Lausche and Stephen Young and Rep. Wayne L. Hays to support the 1967 dairy import act—Senate bill 612.

The directors also went on record against a proposal to require slow-moving vehicle signs in daytime in addition to during darkness — the present requirement. The county unit will write to state Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon and Sen. John Longworth of Salem, asking them to oppose the measure—House Bill 172.

Information was given concerning the legislative reorganization act of 1967 which concerns agricultural research and development centers and the Cooperative Extension Service. The board voted to oppose a move to put the extension service and the agricultural experiment stations under jurisdiction of the House Education Committee.

In response to a letter from the 4-H Advisory Committee, the board voted to contribute $10 to the 4-H awards program.

The wheat pool will be continued another year. Officers said it averaged $1.53 a bushel last year — less than at market time but 12 to 14 cents more than producers would have received had they held the grain on their own.

Dawson Irey of Lisbon R. D. 4, chairman, presided. Mrs. Evelyn Hoopes of North Georgetown, organization director, was present after a vacation in Florida. Twelve members attended. It was announced the county unit has 654 members, compared with a goal of 627.

44 Democrats Added In Signup At Midland

Forty-four Democrats and eight Republicans were added to the voter lists at Midland during a field registration Friday. Raymond Presutti, registration director, announced.

Two independents were also signed. Fourteen voters changed registration from Republican to Democrat. Thirty-nine changes of address were recorded, and five voters reinstated.

Two Cars Involved In Wellsville Mishap

Damage was slight. Smith was cited for not having a driver's license.

It's East Tech And Linden Battling For State 'AA' Title

SMU Upsets Louisville U. In Tourney

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Charles Beasley tipped the ball half the length of the court to Denny Holman for a layup with four seconds left to give Southern Methodist an amazing 83-81 victory over Louisville.

It was the upset of upsets in the NCAA national championship college basketball tournament Friday night.

In addition to the stunning defeat of Louisville's nationally second-ranked Cardinals, host Houston upset third-ranked Kansas 66-53; Dayton surprised eighth-ranked Tennessee 53-52; ninth-ranked Boston College upset St. John's of New York 63-62; University of Pacific surprised No. 10 Texas Western; the defending NCAA champion, 72-63; fourth-ranked North Carolina had to go overtime to beat fifth-ranked Princeton 78-70 and Virginia Tech upset Indiana 79-70.

Only the unbeaten UCLA Bruins, the country's No. 1 team, had an easy time as the NCAA field was cut to eight quarter-finalists. The Bruins made it 27 in a row by crushing Wyoming 109-60.

Lew Alcindor, the Player of the Year, led UCLA with 29 points although playing only part of the game.

The results set up these four regional finals tonight to determine the teams which will go to Louisville, Ky., next weekend for the championship windup of the tourney.

East at College Park, Md. — North Carolina, 25-4, vs. Boston College, 21-2. Midwest at Evanston, Ill. — Dayton, 23-5, vs. Virginia Tech, 20-6. South at Lawrence, Kan. — Houston, 25-3, vs. Southern Methodist, 20-5. Far West at Corvallis, Ore. — UCLA, 27-0, vs. Pacific, 24-3.

Princeton, 24-3, plays St. John's, 23-4; Tennessee, 21-6, meets Indiana, 17-8; Louisville, 23-4, tangles with Kansas, 22-4; and Texas Western, 21-6, battles Wyoming, 15-13, in the four regional consolation games.

Beasley's tap to Holman capped a Southern Methodist rally that wiped out an eight-point Louisville lead in the closing minutes. With the score tied at 81-81 a jump ball was called near the Louisville goal between the 6-foot-5 Beasley and 6-foot-3 Fred Holden of the Cardinals.

Beasley got the jump for his long tap and Holman went in for the layup that spoiled the Cardinals' dream of meeting UCLA in the championship final.

The winning basket gave Holman high scoring honors with 30 points. In addition he made five steals and handed out several assists. Holden topped Louisville with 23 points.

Don Chaney, with 20 points, and Elvin Hayes, with 19, combined for 39 points for Houston, but a bank shot by Gary Grider for his only basket of the game was the key play in the Cougars' upset of Kansas. The two-point shot gave Houston a 57-51 lead with five minutes left.

Jo Jo White paced Kansas with 18 points, including three straight baskets that cut Houston's lead to 55-51 before Grider's key goal.

Tennessee erased a 13-point

Clay Expects To Fight 3 Times Before Army

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Cassius Clay now says he expects to be around for another three fights in the next four months despite an order to report for induction in the Army April 11.

The heavyweight champion's attorneys are seeking an injunction to prevent Clay, who contends he is a minister for the Black Muslims, from being inducted.

Clay, or Muhammad Ali, as he prefers, has implied he would go to jail "for what I believe" rather than go into military service.

Madison Square Garden officials, who were scared that the champ's legal battle against the draft would hurt the gate for his Wednesday night defense with Zora Folley, were amazed to discover they had a booming boxoffice.

Also amazing has been the reaction of the fans to Clay in his free, public workouts in the Garden basement. Standing room crowds cheer every move by the 25-year-old unbeaten champion, even his rope skipping.

It's been more than a year since Clay uttered his remark: "I ain't got no quarrel with the Viet Cong." His fight with Ernie Terrell was chased out of the country and later dropped. Clay fought Canadian champion George Chuvalo in Toronto instead.

It was after his four-round workout with sparring partner James Ellis Friday that Clay said he heard he'll be able to fight four months more. He said he expected to have three fights — maybe all out of the country in that time — including a May 27 defense against Argentina's Oscar Bonavena in Tokyo.

Strasburg, Arcanum Eye 'A' Crown

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Favored Cleveland East Tech, still shaky from a tight squeeze against unheralded Cincinnati LaSalle, comes to grips with surging Columbus Linden McKinley tonight to decide the Class AA Ohio high school basketball championship.

Unbeaten Strasburg, which needed a last-second shot Friday to get this far, clashed with Arcanum of Dark County in the p.m. showdown for the small school title.

Two-time king East Tech eked out a 63-62 decision over Cinderella LaSalle after fourth-ranked Linden avenged an early season setback by outlasting Canton Lincoln 54-50 Friday night.

In the Friday afternoon action, Ed Rusk's 15-foot jump shot with one second left brought Strasburg a 55-54 decision over Southeastern of Ross County in a dramatic comeback that wiped out a 16-point Panther advantage.

Arcanum, which won the crown in 1956, had an easier time disposing of Kalida 55-48 in boosting its record to 24-2.

Coach John Chavers' East Tech club, rangy and fast, found out that its rival from the Queen City was no fluke.

The unsung Lancers, who came into St. John Arena with an unimpressive 14-11 record, had a real shot at erasing the northeastern power.

His team down 63-62 in the dying seconds, LaSalle's Chuck Kromer tried to get off a shot with six seconds left but the Scarabs' 6-foot-8 center Ray Reynolds saved the victory by taking the ball away from Kromer.

Tech, which won titles in 1958 and 1959, ran out the clock as LaSalle tried desperately to gain control.

Bill Lucas, who registered eight of his 20 points in the tell-tale fourth quarter, and deadeye Myron Rogers, who bucketed 25, led the Cleveland assault. Steve Poppe and Terry Sillies each tallied 19 for the losers.

Linden's triumph was paced by Jim Clark's 19 points and Ed Young's 15 but the crowd-pleaser was Lincoln's 5-10 All-

Ohio Dan Todd, who bombed the nets for 27, many of his goals from 25 feet out or more.

Coach Vince Chickarella's Panthers, now 21-2, will match their tenacious defense and strong board work against the speed and size of Tech, 23-2.

Linden avenged its only other loss of the season last weekend by erasing No. 1 ranked Columbus East for the regional crown.

Fifth-ranked Tech kept intact its record of not having lost on the floor. Cleveland's two losses this season were by forfeit because of an over-age player.

Strasburg, the Tuscarawas County school that had wiped out 25 foes by a margin of 14 or more points, trailed 32-16 late in the first half but began whittling away the deficit when All-Ohio John Studer went to work.

The 6-3 senior, limited to only four free throws in a miserable first half, finished with 22 points, including 10 key markers in the final stanza. Studer's basket with 13 seconds left tied the score at 53-all but Jake Jordan connected on one of two free throws to give the Ross County school a short-lived lead before Rusk's basket snuffed out the Panthers.

It was the second straight year Southeastern had lost in the semifinal round and was a heartbreaking loss for Coach Dave Augspurger's crew which broke out of a 2-2 tie to hold the upper hand.

Rusk's basket marked the only time Strasburg led.

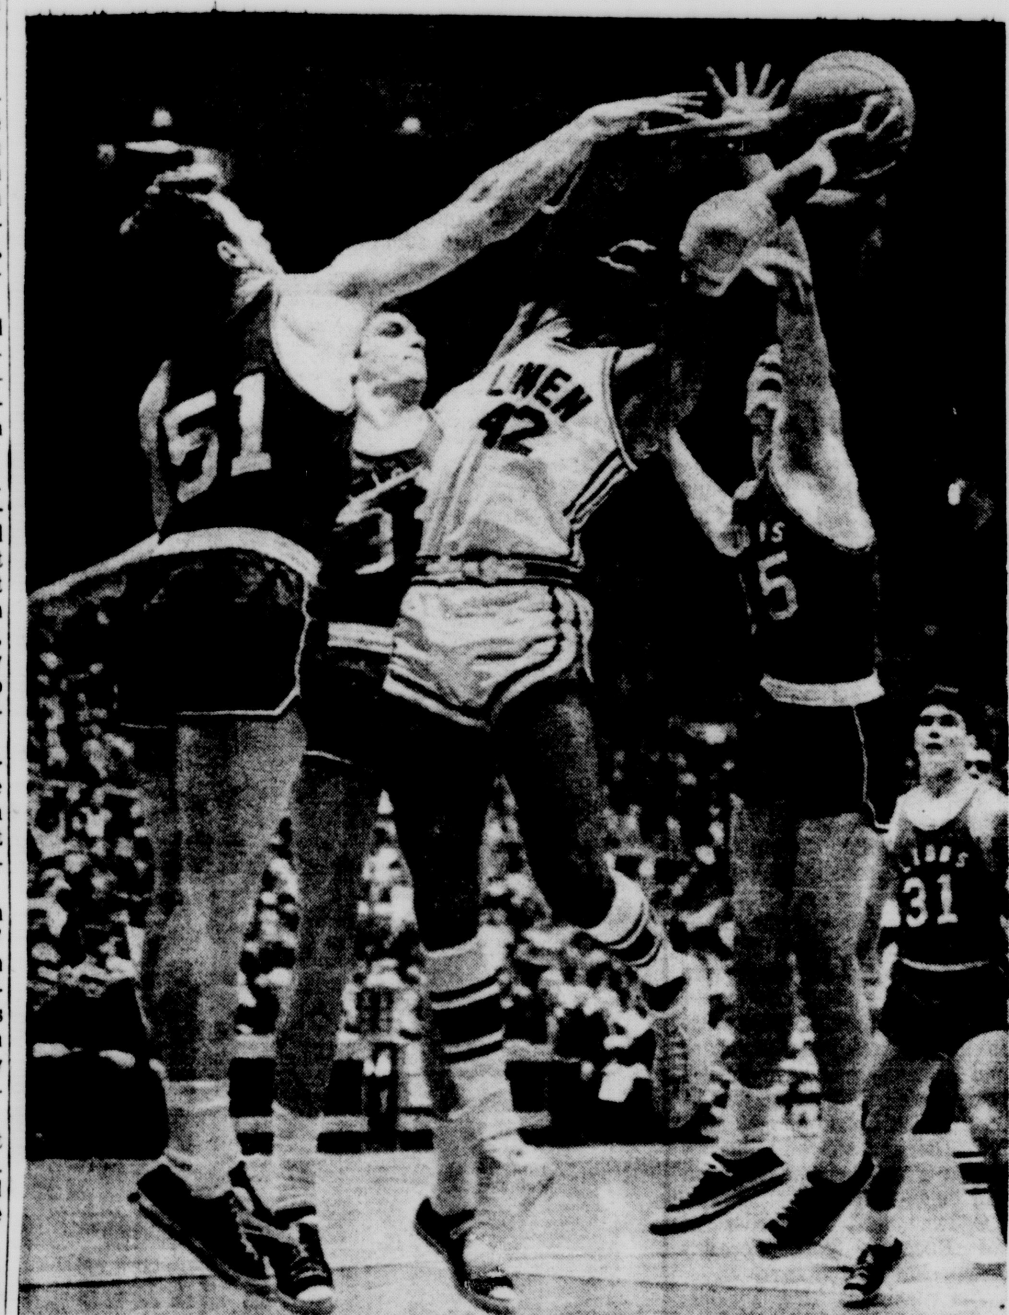

Arcanum showed a good ball handling combo with scoring balance as Kyle Zimmer and Jim Troutwine paced the attack with 13 apiece. Troutwine fouled out early in the fourth quarter.

Kalida, from Putnam County, bowed out with a 17-9 record, unable to muster a consistent scoring punch.

Linden and Strasburg had a little extra incentive today, if it was really needed. Neither has ever won a state title.

Bridgers Eye First State Floor Crown

HARRISBURG (AP) — Chester and Ambridge, the only two undefeated high school basketball teams in the state, battle here tonight for the PIAA Class A championship which neither has ever won.

Six times since 1954, Chester has gained the state finals, but on the five previous occasions the chippers wound up second best. The last defeat was to Pittsburgh Schenley in the 1966 title game.

By contrast, Ambridge is making its first bid for the state crown, but the Bridgers' convincing 68-50 regional victory over Schenley Wednesday make them the definite favorites over Chester.

A capacity crowd approaching 9, and a statewide television audience will view the classic to be played at the Farm Show Arena, where Chester already has racked up two playoff victories.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Ambridge, first-time champion of the powerful WPIAL Dist. 7, owes a great deal of its success to the dynamic duo of Dick DeVenzio, a 6-1 senior, and Denny Wuycik, a 6-5 junior, who average 2 and 25 points per game, respectively.

DeVenzio was named to the Associated Press All-State second team last year when he played for Springdale. When his father Chuck DeVenzio, resigned as the Springdale coach and assumed coaching duties at Ambridge, Dick went along.

Other starters for the Bridgers are Frank Kaufman, a 6-8 center who averages 1 point a game; Walt Ostrowski, a 6-senior, and Phil DePasquale, a 5-9 senior.

Chester, a team that has enjoyed phenomenal success, has a one-two punch in co-captains Ken Shamberger, a 6-6 senior, and Paul Williams, a 6-3 senior, who average 11 and 16 points per game.

Shamberger, although his point production may seem small, is an excellent defensive player and a strong rebounder. Williams is also strong on defense.

The three other starters, all juniors, are 5-6 Eddie Swain averaging 13 points a game; 6-3 Harry McLaughlin, 12 points, and 6-1 Steve Powell.

Since the PIAA playoffs began teams from the eastern half of the state have won 23 state titles, while teams from the west have won 22. However, western teams have won the past three championships.

Illini Expected To Hear Big Ten's Verdict Today

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—A Big Ten "jury" is expected to hand down a final verdict today in the case of the University of Illinois' $21,000 athletic slush fund.

The Illini's long-hidden molehill of illegal aid to athletes that suddenly grew into a conference mountain of trouble could bring the school suspension or expulsion from the Big Ten.

The conference office declined to reveal where the scheduled day-long hearing will be held, but presumably it will be in the same hotel where a news conference on the outcome is scheduled at 6:30 p.m.

It is conjectural what Dr. Henry will add to his 45-minute appeal March 3 before the same faculty group of threatened ouster from the conference for failure to fire three coaches touched by the scandal.

At that meeting the faculty men upheld a Feb. 22 mandate by the conference athletic directors that Illinois must fire head football Coach Pete Elliott, head basketball Coach Harry Combes and assistant basketball coach Howie Braun.

It's East Tech And Linden Battling For State 'AA' Title

SMU Upsets Strasburg, Arcanum Eye 'A' Crown Bridgers Eye First State Floor Crown

Charles Beasley tipped the ball half the length of the court to Denny Holman for a layup with four seconds left to give Southern Methodist an amazing 83-81 victory over Louisville.

It was the upset of upsets in the NCAA national championship college basketball tournament Friday night.

In addition to the stunning defeat of Louisville's nationally second-ranked Cardinals, hot Houston upset third-ranked Kansas 66-53; Dayton surprised eighth-ranked Tennessee 53-52; ninth-ranked Boston College upset St. John's of New York 63-62; University of Pacific surprised No. 10 Texas Western; the defending NCAA champion, 72-63; fourth-ranked North Carolina had to go overtime to beat fifth-ranked Princeton 78-70 and Virginia Tech upset Indiana 79-70.

Only the unbeaten UCLA Bruins, the country's No. 1 team, had an easy time as the NCAA field was cut to eight quarter-finalists. The Bruins made it 27 in a row by crushing Wyoming 109-60.

Lew Alcindor, the Player of the Year, led UCLA with 29 points although playing only part of the game.

The results set up these four regional finals tonight to determine the teams which will go to Louisville, Ky., next weekend for the championship windup of the tourney.

East at College Park, Md. — North Carolina, 25-4, vs. Boston College, 21-2. Midwest at Evansville, Ind. — Dayton, 23-5, vs. Virginia Tech, 20-6. Far West at Corvallis, Ore. — UCLA, 27-0, vs. Pacific, 24-3. Princeton, 24-3, plays St. John's, 23-4; Tennessee, 21-6, meets Indiana, 17-8; Louisville, 23-4, tangles with Kansas, 22-4; and Texas Western, 21-6, battles Wyoming, 15-13, in the four regional consolation games.

Beasley's tap to Holman capped a Southern Methodist rally that wiped out an eight-point Louisville lead in the closing minutes. With the score tied at 81-81 a jump ball was called near the Louisville goal between the 6-foot-5 Beasley and 6-foot-3 Fred Holden of the Cardinals.

Beasley got the jump for his long tap and Holman went in for the layup that spoiled the Cardinals' dream of meeting UCLA in the championship final.

The winning basket gave Holman high scoring honors with 30 points. In addition he made five steals and handed out several assists. Holden topped Louisville with 23 points.

Don Chaney, with 20 points, and Elvin Hayes, with 19, combined for 39 points for Houston, but a bank shot by Gary Grider for his only basket of the game was the key play in the Cougars' upset of Kansas. The two-point shot gave Houston a 57-51 lead with five minutes left.

Jo Jo White paced Kansas with 18 points, including three straight baskets that cut Houston's lead to 55-51 before Grider's key goal.

Tennessee erased a 13-point

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Favored Cleveland East Tech, still shaky from a tight squeeze against unheralded Cincinnati LaSalle, comes to grips with surging Columbus Linden McKinley tonight to decide the Class AA Ohio high school basketball championship.

Unbeaten Strasburg, which needed a last-second shot Friday to get this far, clashed with Arcanum of Dark County in the p.m. showdown for the small school title.

Two-time king East Tech eked out a 63-62 decision over Cinderella LaSalle after fourth-ranked Linden averaged an early season setback by outlasting Canton Lincoln 54-50 Friday night.

In the Friday afternoon action, Ed Rusk's 15-foot jump shot with one second left brought Strasburg a 55-54 decision over Southeastern of Ross County in a dramatic comeback that wiped out a 16-point Panther advantage.

Arcanum, which won the crown in 1956, had an easier time disposing of Kalida 55-48 in boosting its record to 24-2.

Coach John Chavers' East Tech club, rangy and fast, found out that its rival from the Queen City was no fluke.

The unsung Lancers, who came into St. John Arena with an unimpressive 14-11 record, had a real shot at erasing the northeastern power.

His team down 63-62 in the dying seconds, LaSalle's Chuck Kromer tried to get off a shot with six seconds left but the Scarabs' 6-foot-8 center Ray Reynolds saved the victory by taking the ball away from Kromer.

Tech, which won titles in 1958 and 1959, ran out the clock as LaSalle tried desperately to gain control.

Bill Lucas, who registered eight of his 20 points in the tell-tale fourth quarter, and deadeye Myron Rogers, who bucketed 25, led the Cleveland assault. Steve Poppe and Terry Sillies each tallied 19 for the losers.

Linden's triumph was paced by Jim Clark's 19 points and Ed Young's 15 but the crowd-pleaser was Lincoln's 5-10 All-

Ohio Dan Todd, who bombed the nets for 27, many of his goals from 25 feet out or more.

Coach Vince Chickarella's Panthers, now 21-2, will match their tenacious defense and strong board work against the speed and size of Tech, 23-2.

Clay Expects To Fight 3 Times Before Army

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Cassius Clay now says he expects to be around for another three fights in the next four months despite an order to report for induction in the Army April 11.

The heavyweight champion's attorneys are seeking an injunction to prevent Clay, who contends he is a minister for the Black Muslims, from being inducted.

Clay, or Muhammad Ali, as he prefers, has implied he would go to jail "for what I believe" rather than go into military service.

Madison Square Garden officials, who were scared that the champ's legal battle against the draft would hurt the gate for his Wednesday night defense with Zora Folley, were amazed to discover they had a booming boxoffice.

Also amazing has been the reaction of the fans to Clay in his free, public workouts in the Garden basement. Standing room crowds cheer every move by the 25-year-old unbeaten champion, even his rope skipping.

It's been more than a year since Clay uttered his remark: "I ain't got no quarrel with the Viet Cong." His fight with Ernie Terrell was chased out of the country and later dropped. Clay fought Canadian champion George Chuvalo in Toronto instead.

Youngster Hurls Shutout For Reds

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sure, and wouldn't you know that a fine broth of an Irish lad would be at his very best on St. Patrick's Day.

Gary Nolan, who has a kiss of the old country in his blood and a Cincinnati bonus in his pocket celebrated the big day Friday with three shutout innings in the Reds' 7-5 victory over Boston.

And don't hand Nolan that blarney about leprechauns helping him on the mound. The Reds' top choice in last summer's free agent draft, the 18-year-old right-hander has a world of confidence in his own ability.

"Sure I expect to stick with the big club," says the youngster, who was pitching for Orlino, Calif. High School at this time last year.

After signing with the Reds last June, Nolan had a 7.3 record with a 1.82 earned run average at Sioux Falls, S.C. The big eye-opener was 163 strikeouts and only 30 bases on balls in 104 innings pitched.

Nolan allowed only one hit and struck out six of the 11 Boston batters he faced Friday. He has allowed just three singles, struck out nine and walked one in six innings pitched this spring.

"He has a wealth of natural stuff," marvels Dave Bristol, the Reds' manager. "And he's imperturbable."

And Irish too.

In Friday's other games, St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 10-5. San Francisco whipped California 7-2. Philadelphia downed Houston 5-2. Washington shaded Atlanta 3-2. The Chicago Cubs ripped Cleveland 9-3. Detroit topped the White Sox 7-3. The New York Mets topped Baltimore 5-3. Los Angeles downed the Yankees 4-2 and Minnesota nipped Kansas City 4-3.

Lee May, another Cincinnati rookie, smacked three hits including a two-run game-winning homer in the ninth inning that gave the Reds their victory over the Red Sox. Nolan was the winner.

John Romano, who isn't Irish, tripled and singled, driving in three runs for the Cardinals against Pittsburgh. Mike Shannon, who is, had three hits for St. Louis. Donn Clendenon homered for the Pirates.

Gaylord Perry worked five shutout innings for the Giants, allowing just three hits against California. Jim Hart snapped out of a slump with his first two hits of the spring, driving in four runs with a home run and a double.

Johnny Callison and Johnny Briggs each tagged two run homers as the Phillies whipped the Astros.

Big Frank Howard lumbered in from third on a slow grounder to short in the sixth inning, giving the Senators the winning run against Atlanta. An error by Denis Menke set the stage for Washington's winning rally.

The streaking Cubs won their sixth straight game but lost Ron Santo for at least a week. Santo was spiked on the left kneecap in a home plate collision with Cleveland catcher Duke Sims and took six stitches.

Jim Northrup and Ray Oyler tagged Gary Peters for home runs as the Tigers tripped the White Sox. Detroit ripped Peters for eight hits and six runs.

Ed Kranepool's bases loaded single in the eighth inning drove in the tie breaking runs as the Mets topped the Orioles. Brooks Robinson homered for Baltimore.

Claude Osteen, Phil Regan and Ron Perraonowski limited the Yankees to three hits as the Dodgers won John Kennedy's eighth inning single broke a 2-2 tie.

Earl Battey drove in Minnesota's winning run in the bottom of the ninth against the Athletics at Caracas, Venezuela. Harmon Killebrew had two home runs for the Twins.

Charleston, Beckley Gain 'AAA' Finals

By ED TUNSTALL
Associated Press Writer

MORGANTOWN (AP) — West Virginia's long high school basketball season comes to a close today with six highly - geared teams shooting for championships in three divisions.

The big game pits Charleston's steamroller against Beckley's balanced offense for the Class AAA title and it should be a well-ringer.

Warwood races Sophia for the Class AA title while unbeaten Bramwell went after the Class A crown against Bethany in afternoon games.

Beckley, capped a long day of action by whipping Elkins 76-66 Friday night with Mike Griffith coming up with a clutch shooting performance in the second half.

Skinny Curt Price made a lot of converts with a 30-point performance and 28 rebounds snared in Charleston's 62-56 decision over a willing Wellsburg crew.

Bramwell notched its 25th victory by downing Piedmont's tough defending champions 47-44 while Bethany moved into the championship round with a 77-65 victory over Herndon.

Griffith whirled in 15 points in the second half and wound up with 24 in Beckley's triumph over Elkins. The game was tied at 38-all with 4:58 left in the third period but Griffith's free throw gave the Eagles a lead they never surrendered.

Ellis Gutshall of Elkins shared scoring honors with 24 points.

Steve Luxford, a defensive back from McLean, Va., will captain Dartmouth's 1967 football team.

Youngster Hurls Shutout For Reds

By HAL ROCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Sure, and wouldn't you know that a fine broth of an Irish lad would be at his very best on St.
Patrick's Day.
Gary Nolan, who has a kiss of the old country in his blood and a Cincinnati bonus in his pocket celebrated the big day Friday with three shutout innings in the Reds' 7-5 victory over Boston.

And don't hand Nolan that blarney about leprechauns helping him on the mound. The Reds' top choice in last summer's free agent draft, the 18-year-old right-hander has a world of confidence in his own ability.
"Sure I expect to stick with the big club," says the youngster, who was pitching for Olo-ville, Calif. High School at this time last year.

After signing with the Reds last June, Nolan had a 7-3 record with a 1.82 earned run average at Sioux Falls, S.C. The big eve-opener was 162 strikeouts and only 30 bases on balls in 104 innings pitched.
Nolan allowed only one hit and struck out six of the 11 Boston batters he faced Friday. He has allowed just three singles, struck out nine and walked one in six innings pitched this spring.

"He has a wealth of natural stuff," marvels Dave Bristol, the Reds' manager. "And he's imperturbable."
And Irish too.
In Friday's other games, St.
Louis defeated Pittsburgh 10-5.
San Francisco whipped California 7-2. Philadelphia downed Houston 5-2. Washington shaded Atlanta 3-2. The Chicago Cubs ripped Cleveland 9-3. Detroit topped the White Sox 7-3. The New York Mets topped Baltimore 5-3. Los Angeles downed the Yankees 4-2 and Minnesota nipped Kansas City 4-3.

Lee May, another Cincinnati rookie, smacked three hits including a two-run game-winning home run in the ninth inning that gave the Reds their victory over the Red Sox. Nolan was the winner.

John Romano, who isn't Irish, tripled and singled, driving in three runs for the Cardinals against Pittsburgh. Mike Shannon, who is, had three hits for St. Louis. Donn Clendenon homered for the Pirates.
Gaylord Perry worked five shutout innings for the Giants, allowing just three hits against California. Jim Hart snapped out of a slump with his first two hits of the spring, driving in four runs with a home run and a double.
Johnny Callison and Johnny
Briggs each tagged two run-homers as the Phillies whipped the Astros.
Big Frank Howard lumbered
in from third on a slow grounder to short in the sixth inning, giving the Senators the winning run against Atlanta. An error by Denis Menke set the stage for Washington's winning rally.
The streaking Cubs won their sixth straight game but lost Ron Santo for at least a week. Santo was spiked on the left kneecap in a home plate collision with Cleveland catcher Duke Sims and took six stitches.
Jim Northrup and Ray Olier tagged Gary Peters for home runs as the Tigers tripped the White Sox. Detroit ripped Peters for eight hits and six runs.
Ed Kranepool's bases loaded single in the eighth inning drove in the tie breaking runs as the Mets topped the Orioles. Brooks
Robinson homered for Baltimore.
Claude Osteen, Phil Regan and Ron Perranowski limited the Yankees to three hits as the Dodgers won John Kennedy's eighth inning single broke a 2-2 tie.
Earl Battey drove in Minnesota's winning run in the bottom of the ninth against the Athletics at Caracas, Venezuela.
Harmon Killebrew had two home runs for the Twins.

2 IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our wife, Edith Kelly, who passed away one year ago today. We did not know the pain you had, or hear your final sigh. We only know you passed away. Without a last goodbye. Gone, dear Edith, gone forever. How we miss your smiling face. But you left us to remember. None on earth could take your place. A happy home we once enjoyed. How sweet the memory still. But death has left loneliness. The world can never fill. Sadly missed by all.

Junior Editors Quiz on

QUESTION: If a baby cow is a calf and a baby horse a colt, what is a baby kangaroo?

ANSWER: Our picture answers this question, but we want to tell you something about these little animal babies called joeys. A kangaroo is a marsupial. It belongs to the group of animals which have pouches in which they carry their young. A newly-born joey is a tiny thing not more than an inch long, but it has a strong instinct to climb into the snug pouch the mother kangaroo carries in front. Here the joey can nurse and grow in safety. It may remain in its mother's pouch for a long time, perhaps for 6 months. As it grows, a joey will begin to get a little tired of its mother's milk. There will come a day when some patch of bright green grass will look too tempting to resist, and the joey will hop out and begin to nibble at the kind of food which will satisfy it for the rest of its life. But if it hears something, or sees something which it doesn't understand, the joey will suddenly panic and make a wild leap for the safety of its mother's pouch again. Then comes the day when the joey can take care of itself; it has become a kangaroo.

Christine Pritchard of Woodville, Miss., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Junior Editors Quiz on

QUESTION: If a baby cow is a calf and a baby horse a colt, what is a baby kangaroo?

ANSWER: Our picture answers this question, but we want to tell you something about these little animal babies called joeys. A kangaroo is a marsupial. It belongs to the group of animals which have pouches in which they carry their young. A newly-born joey is a tiny thing not more than an inch long, but it has a strong instinct to climb into the snug pouch the mother kangaroo carries in front. Here the joey can nurse and grow in safety. It may remain in its mother's pouch for a long time, perhaps for 6 months. As it grows, a joey will begin to get a little tired of its mother's milk. There will come a day when some patch of bright green grass will look too tempting to resist, and the joey will hop out and begin to nibble at the kind of food which will satisfy it for the rest of its life. But if it hears something, or sees something which it doesn't understand, the joey will suddenly panic and make a wild leap for the safety of its mother's pouch again. Then comes the day when the joey can take care of itself; it has become a kangaroo.

Health Aide Outlines Steps To Cut Accidental Poisoning

In conjunction with "Poison Prevention Week" proclaimed by President Johnson March 19-25, Jack Bonner of the city Health Department today warned of accidental poisonings.

"It is surprising to learn that approximately 130 Ohioans die each year as a result of accidental poisoning," Bonner said. "Over 140,000 in the United States under five years of age were poisoned last year."

"Children of this age group are in a learning process. They learn by exploring their environment. What they see, they try to reach, and what they reach they put into their mouths. They are completely dependent upon adults for protection and when these accidents happen they are, in the main, the direct result of adult carelessness or lack of awareness of these potential dangers."

"Accidents happen because these products are within reach of the child. As the child grows, his agility, ingenuity and mobility will allow him to get into storage areas previously considered inaccessible. More specifically, a poisoning accident can result from one or a combination of situations."

Bonner recommends the following rules to combat accidental poisoning:

- 1.—Lock up all dangerous substances — lye, furniture polish, kerosene, all medicines, common household products, cosmetics and aspirin. Always be suspicious of everything that is not intended for human consumption.
- 2.—Do not store poisonous or flammable material in food or beverage containers. Anything in a "pop" bottle is drinkable to a child.
- 3.—Read all labels and follow the caution statement.
- 4.—Make sure all poisons are clearly marked.
- 5.—Discarded drugs should not be within reach of children.
- 6.—Never call medicine "candy."
- 7.—Store food and household products separately.
- 8.—Aspirin is the most common cause of accidental poisoning among children.
- 9.—Keep all products in original containers.
- 10.—Insecticides, if not used according to directions, can kill. Read the label and follow directions.
